New Braunfels, Texas - August 25, 2021 -
New Braunfels Roofing - Cool Roofs Inc., a roofing contractor based in New Braunfels, TX, is pleased to announce they now also provide San Antonio commercial roofing and residential roof contractor services. With more than 130 five-star reviews on Google, the company is quickly gaining the reputation of being the number one referred roofing company in Texas. They have recently expanded their service territory to include San Antonio Texas. Cool Roofs Inc. can provide all kinds of roofing services for both commercial and residential properties, from new installations, roof repairs and replacement, to emergency roof repair.

Colt Moncla, owner of Cool Roofs Inc., says, ?The roof is arguably the largest and most essential part of any property, and maintenance always helps ensure that the vital structure stands firm against the elements and continues to protect its inhabitants. We offer world-class commercial roofing services and products. Our team has over 300+ successful projects of roofing done on commercial properties.?

Their commercial roofing product line includes: spray foam roofing, thermoplastic polyolefin (TPO), roof coatings, and metal roofing. Spray foam roofing offers a totally waterproof, seamless, and adhering roofing material that protects the existing roof substrate. It is less expensive while having better durability and having a higher tensile strength in contrast to a multi-layered built-up roof system.

TPO is a roofing material that is commonly used for commercial buildings. This is because it has strong resistance to chemical exposure, ozone and ultraviolet radiation, thus making it a suitable commercial roofing material. It can decrease the temperature of the roof, thus reducing energy expenses particularly during peak months. It does not need tear-off, which implies that daily operations will not have to stop while the roof is being worked on.

Meanwhile, roof coatings are designed to protect and extend the life of the roof. They can protect the roof from various elements. The volume and quality the resins utilized in making the coatings allowed them to retain their elasticity, making them suitable as roof coating.

And with regards to metal roofing, although it requires minimal maintenance, there are times when it will need to be replaced. They will be using high quality materials for the metal roof panels. Metal roofs have the benefit of being lightweight, energy efficient, and needing very little maintenance.

Cool Roofs also provides repair, replacement, or installation services for residential roofs in San Antonio. They are capable of handling a wide range of roofing materials, including tile roofs, shingles, metal roofs, and slate roofs. And there are a number of factors that make them the top choice when it comes to roofing services. These include their: meticulous and high-quality roofing installation; use of high-quality roofing products; professional expertise; and free roofing project estimates.

They always ensure that every roofing product they install have been made in compliance with the highest standards of durability, quality and craftsmanship, to make sure that the home will be protected from the elements. Secondly, their roofing professionals have all been vetted and are fully licensed, insured, and bonded. They will always make sure that their work is of high quality and always in compliance with the highest standards of service and workmanship.

It should be noted that after receiving more than 130 reviews on Google, they have an overall rating of 5.0 over 5 stars. For instance, Bonnie W. gave them five stars and said, ?I am so happy with my new roof. I let the guys choose color and spec. They did a super job. They were professional, respectful on my time and very informative. I trusted them completely with my property. They treated me like family. I felt safe and secure. These guys came out, evaluated my roof and damage. Helped me with my insurance. Went above and beyond. Had the job done efficiently. My property was left cleaner than when they started. Great job. Would recommend to anyone.?
