New York - Civil rights laws have been created in order to secure and ensure everyone's fundamental freedoms under the law. When people feel they have had their civil liberties broken by the justice system, they typically require to seek out the assistance of a New York car accident lawyer in order to help them.

Especially in today's world, civil rights in the United States have been under fire and continue to be at the forefront in daily headlines and erupting social unrest. Few are more aware of the plight of those who may have had their civil liberties violated better than David S. Leigh, Esq. As an experienced New York car accident lawyer, his clients depend on him to hold those who have breached their civil rights responsible for their actions.

"We like to believe, here in the US, that we stand for the security and freedom of all individuals, however, we know that this, unfortunately, isn't always accurate. Each day, we see where our systems may have failed people. While the law provides for equal rights for all, we still see those laws being broken, not just by individual discrimination but even by the very institutions that are supposed to secure and maintain those fundamental civil liberties," Mr. Leigh stated. "Our law office believes in the core principle that everybody deserves justice, but, much of our clients understand, firsthand, that justice is not afforded for all in our system. That is when we are hired to use the power of the law to level that playing field."

Thanks to his strong advocacy of those who have been victims of violations including police brutality, excessive force, sexual assault, discrimination, and other civil liberties violations, Mr. Leigh has received lots of accolades and testimonials from his clients.

Mertz Lowe from New York states: "I simply have to show my gratitude to David and his team for everything you have done for me about my personal injury case. They were the most polite, experienced, efficient, and amazing law office staff I have ever dealt with. They were consistently readily available to respond to any concerns I had and guided me thru the entire lawsuit. They made it feel like I was their only client. I felt like family. David and his team know the ins and outs of the legal system and agreed to only the absolute best outcome for me. I am so happy with the result of my lawsuit and I highly recommend them. There are no words to express my appreciation for what you have done for me, outstanding service, and remarkable outcome. Thank you again!"

The facts play out on the streets and communities. In NYC, civil rights injury claims were some of the most regularly filed claims recently. Federal civil liberties claims have increased tremendously over the previous years. Unfortunately, Mr. Leigh knows that lots of civil rights are violated by the very organizations charged to protect them.

Though the justice system can feel daunting to anyone, many face the system each day believing that the system is already rigged against them. Unfortunately, that mentality has actually helped perpetuate abuse in many pockets of government and law enforcement. Mr. Leigh and his law firm have dedicated their work to the civil rights of others, so as to guarantee that they are heard and that those who violate civil rights are held accountable.

As skilled New York civil liberties attorneys, Mr. Leigh and his firm, the Law Office of David S. Leigh, P.C., are vigilant protectors of those whose civil rights have been breached. He has committed his profession to help make sure that everybody's voice is heard under the law, particularly those who have had their civil rights broken by the justice system.
