September 14, 2021

September 14, 2021 -
Boulder Back Pain Clinic, a chiropractic clinic based in Boulder, CO, is proud to announce that they have been recognized as a top rated chiropractor in Boulder, according to Expertise.com. Expertise.com has included them in its Best Chiropractors in Boulder 2021 list. This resulted from the evaluation of chiropractors based on more than 25 variables in five categories, namely: availability, qualifications, reputation, experience, and professionalism. Boulder Back Pain Clinic also wants to point out that after receiving more than 140 reviews from their patients on Google, they have an overall rating of 4.9 over 5 stars, which means their ratings are predominantly five-star reviews.

For instance, a customer who identifies himself as RSG has given them a five-star rating and said, ?Dr. Cahn has been my go to during my hard training months. He?s able to loosen up my lower back from a hip that likes to rotate in and puts stress on my lower back. He definitely helps to keep me moving and I highly recommend him. And Ellyn his assistant is always friendly and helps me from time to time for last min appts. Very customer first office. Big thanks.?

Ellyn, a representative for Boulder Back Pain Clinic, says, ?Being included in the prestigious list of Expertise.com for Boulder's best chiropractor makes us proud. When combined with the highly positive ratings we have been receiving from past patients, this is very exciting for us because it means that we have actually been achieving our goal of providing the best customer experience possible. Rest assured that we will continue to provide the best possible service to the utmost of our abilities and possibly even improve further.?

Having served the Boulder community and its neighboring areas for more than 35 years, they are familiar and fully understand the needs of the very active residents of Boulder and the best way to serve them. As such, they have earn the trust of the people and developed a great reputation in their ability to use advanced and unique approaches that are tailored to the specific needs of the individual, resulting in long-lasting effective pain relief.

The chiropractors at Boulder Back Pain Clinic employ the Whole Person Treatment Method to provide patients with faster results compared to most chiropractors. As such, their treatments are twice as fast, thus reducing the patient?s recovery time by 50 percent. Patients can rest assured that they will get the appropriate care to recover fast without using drugs or surgery.

They will apply a series of different methods including chiropractic adjustments, physical therapy, and soft tissue therapy, to efficiently treat their patients, which has earned for their clinic the designation as a ?one-stop chiropractic shop.? Whether the issue is chronic pain or pain resulting from a car accident, they will find the most appropriate solution.

Dr. Marc Cahn, the founder of the practice, has more than 35 years of experience in treating patients. He obtained his Doctorate of Chiropractic at Palmer College and he is board qualified for chiropractic orthopedics and rehabilitation. He is also certified by the American Chiropractic Association.

Dr. Aaron Guzik has a Doctorate of Chiropractic from Western States and a BA in Integrative Physiology from CU Boulder. He is also certified by the American Chiropractic Association and he is licensed to treat patients in several states.

Dr. Cahn and Dr. Guzik will not only focus on the muscles, bones, nervous system, and joints of the body but they will also examine the various factors that are the cause of the pain, such as level of activity, lifestyle, previous injury, or family history. They will conduct a comprehensive exam that will include taking a detailed health and injury history of the patient to determine the exact nature of the problem in order to craft the best treatment plan for a specific patient.
