Long Island, NY-- Being charged with a criminal offense in New York can have severe repercussions. Few people are more aware of this better than New York criminal attorney Jason Bassett. The effects of a criminal conviction can be dire and can in some cases even change the trajectory of a person's entire life. Mr. Bassett believes that no one should deal with the criminal justice system alone and without the benefit of a skilled and experienced criminal defense lawyer.

As a skilled criminal attorney, Mr. Bassett understands that the quality of criminal defense that a person gets if they are charged with a crime can make a big difference. Whether the charges get dismissed, downgraded, a plea deal is presented, or if they wind up in jail or prison and for how long, can frequently depend on the work of their defense lawyer. Whether an individual has actually been charged with break-in, assault, homicide, domestic violence, or even a DWI or DUI, a criminal charge and conviction can haunt them for years to come. This is why it is critical to have the representation of someone with the knowledge, experience, and perseverance to fight for the defendant's rights.

"While criminal penalties and prison time are difficult enough, the way criminal convictions and charges affect the rest of that suspect's life can be similarly destructive," stated Mr. Bassett. "A defendant can be penalized and serve their time, and yet for the rest of their life, there is a reminder that they are still thought of as a criminal in society's eyes. A criminal charge can impact an individual's future work, academic options, professional licenses and certifications, and involvement in particular government programs. Each time that individual requests a job, the potential employer will take a look at them differently. A well-crafted criminal defense is crucial to safeguard my customers not just from the criminal penalty itself but also these other long-lasting collateral effects."

A former district attorney, Mr. Bassett has witnessed the other side of the criminal justice and the way numerous suspects feel they are without power within the system. He has since turned his sights to criminal defense so as to level the playing field and safeguard the rights of those who have been charged with a crime at either the federal or state level. Both clients and other attorneys continue to provide favorable reviews and testimonials when it comes to their work together.

Sylvia Norris from New York states: "Jason is professional and very easy to work with. My son needed his services for a certain incident. He was really helpful and considerate. He didn't judge my son and worked only with facts. Jason is a great person. Thank you. Thank you so much."

In the legal justice system, an offender has important rights, and it is the criminal defense attorney's task to promote those rights. With more than twenty-one years in the criminal justice system, Mr. Bassett has dedicated his practice to safeguarding the rights of his clients in and out of the courtroom.
