Napolin Accident Injury Lawyer Riverside, a firm based in Riverside, CA, wants people to know that they are ready to handle various accident cases, including wrongful death claims. A wrongful death claim is a case brought against a defendant who has caused the death of a person, either through negligence or as a result of some intentional action. Such a claim may be filed by the surviving family members or a representative of the estate of the deceased person, on behalf of surviving family members affected by the person?s death. Alexander D. Napolin, who has developed a reputation of being a top accident injury attorney in Riverside and surrounding areas, including his team of attorneys, are ready to handle such cases.

A common example of wrongful death is a victim of a car accident, or any kind of accident, who passed away as a result of his or her injuries. For accident injury cases that resulted from the negligence of another person, it is important have it handled by a law firm with a reputation of success in such cases. However, a firm?s pass successes and length of experience will not necessarily determine the success of a particular case. This can only be guaranteed by the proper evaluation of the specific case and its timely prosecution, which is why Napolin Accident Injury Lawyer Riverside focuses on the client rather than on how much they have collected for other clients.

?Since opening our doors in 2011, we have developed into a well-rounded California accident injury lawsuit law firm,? says Alexander D. Napolin. ?Our reputation as quality Riverside California personal injury lawyers is not measured solely by the amount of money collected for my clients before you. Instead, it is best measured by the success stories that my clients experience when I apply my unique philosophy and method to their case. I have developed a great formula of success with client-attorney relationships that make each and every case a success.?

The Riverside County personal injury lawyer advises the loved ones of people who have suffered a wrongful death that they need to be aware of the statute of limitations for such cases. A wrongful death should be filed to the state of California?s civil court system within two years from the date of the death of the victim, or else the family will lose their right to a wrongful claim.

Meanwhile, they offer free consultation to the loved ones of the deceased to properly evaluate each particular case. The typical damages that can be claimed may include funeral and burial expenses, the income of the deceased person could have earned if not for his or her untimely demise, and compensation for the loss of the support and companionship the deceased person could have provided to his or her family. The wrongful death lawsuit may frequently be accompanied by a California ?survival? cause of action, through which punitive damages may be provided. Such punitive damages are not available through a wrongful death lawsuit in California.

Meanwhile, Napolin Accident Injury Lawyer Riverside also handles cases of victims of different kinds of accidents, such as car accidents, bicycle accident, hit and runs, slip and falls, pool accidents, medical malpractice, ride sharing accidents, and more. Motor vehicle accidents are the frequent cause of injuries to accident victims but there are others. For instance, a person may be bitten by a neighbor?s dog or any other kind of pet. People may also get hurt because of medical malpractice, which is the result of a medical professional?s negligence. Accident injuries can be in various forms, such as head injuries, burns, lacerations, whiplash, animal bites, back injury, broken bones, and more. The invite people who have suffered such injuries, or their loved ones, to schedule with the a free consultation to learn if they have a case and what they need to do.
