St. Louis, MO based Banner Construction is pleased to announce that they are offering premium window replacements in St. Louis and the surrounding areas. Premium replacement windows are widely considered to be one of the best and easiest ways to increase home value. More information about Banner Construction?s window replacement services can be found at the following link: https://bannerconstruction.com/pella-windows-replacement-in-st-louis/.

Banner Construction is a professional window installation provider that has been in the industry since 1993. Over the years, they have remained dedicated to providing their community with beautiful and energy-efficient windows at budget-friendly prices. As their community will often attest, they have delivered nothing but the best products alongside the best service. Their installers are all certified by Pella, so customers are assured that they will do the job correctly the first time around. They are also knowledgeable in a wide variety of window options, and they are happy to help customers choose the one that is best suited to their needs and preferences. The depth of experience they bring to every project, combined with their expertise and dedication to customer service, makes Banner Construction one of the top options for a window contractor in the St. Louis area.

Banner Construction provides only the most premium window products. This ensures that their customers will always be fully satisfied with the results that they get. To provide these premium products, Banner Construction works with brands that are at the top of the window manufacturing industry. They offer multiple operating window styles from Pella, including awning, double-hung, slider, casement, bow and bay. They also provide style customizations with exterior colors, interior colors and hardware finishes so customers can get the design that suits their taste the most. Pella is considered to be a superior brand thanks to their continuous innovations, top-quality service and energy-saving solutions. Pella has also received the ENERGY STAR® Partner of the Year distinction eight times, placing them in the company of several distinguished organizations that have contributed greatly to protecting the environment through energy efficiency. This means that no matter which style they choose, customers can expect beautiful, sturdy and energy-efficient windows.

Banner Construction also works with Simonton, which is known for their thermal efficient vinyl windows that meet ENERGY STAR® guidelines. The Simonton portfolio of products includes 12 different window and patio door lines with varying structural and stylistic features, all of which can be ordered to meet ENERGY STAR® guidelines. In addition, Simonton is similarly committed to exceeding customer expectations with the highest?quality products available and unbeatable service.

Some may hesitate to go for premium energy-efficient windows as they think that the costs of the windows are not worth the benefits they provide. However, according to certain studies, this is actually far from the case. New windows, especially those that have high levels of energy efficiency, have a high return rate. Cost vs Value reports from Remodeling magazine indicate that upscale vinyl window upgrades provide a 73.4% return on investment while upscale wood window upgrades have a return of 70.8%. However, upscale window upgrades are still considered to be large investments. As such, it is recommended that customers turn exclusively to a reliable and skilled window contractor (such as Banner Construction) for window installation. Banner Construction has consistently received high praise for the products and services they provide. Gina Pfund says in a 5-Star Google review, ?Working with Banner Construction was an extremely positive experience! I had the vinyl siding and the windows replaced on my 1940?s house with James Hardie siding and Simonton vinyl windows. My house looks fabulous! I feel like I have moved into a new home! People have stopped in front of my house to take photos of it. Everyone who came to my house during each phase of this project from beginning to end was extremely respectful, cooperative, and accommodating! So glad I went with Banner and have recommended Sam and his team to many people in my community!?
