West Coast Marketers, a business located in Beverly Hills, California, has launched a review of P1 Targeting App by Peter Garety to give emphasis on the value of proper keywords research in getting higher ranking in search engines.

"P1 Targeting App is a real time saver. This is the easiest tool I have used so far. I can get the most profitable and with very low competition keywords in minutes," says John Newman, one of the reviewers of West Coast Marketers. "The beauty of this app is that it is cloud-based. I can do keyword research and find the most lucrative keywords in my niche wherever and whenever I want. All I have to do is log in to the members area to access the tool."

West Coast Marketers also highlighted that keyword research is one of the most important factor when starting a niche website as it determines the competition and search volume of a keyword one has to target in the niche. With their review of P1 Targeting App, they have recommended it to marketers who are struggling to start earning with niche websites and ranking it in search engines.

"Peter Garety has launched numerous products in the past that helped us in growing our organization. With his reputation, I am sure P1 Targeting App will yield the same excellent result as those with the previous marketing tools he released," added Tim when asked about the product creator. He also added that in using the Peter's tools, he have ranked his own sites that generate multiple income streams for him.
