Long Island, NY-- Being charged with a crime in New York can have severe consequences. Few people know this better than New York criminal defense attorney Jason Bassett. The impacts of a criminal conviction could be dire and can often even change the trajectory of an individual's entire life. Mr. Bassett believes that no one must face the criminal justice system on their own and without the advantage of a knowledgeable and experienced criminal defense lawyer.

As a skilled criminal defense attorney, Mr. Bassett understands that the quality of criminal defense that an individual gets if they are charged with a crime can make a significant difference. Whether the charges get dismissed, reduced, a plea deal is offered, or if they wind up in jail or prison and for how long, can frequently depend upon the work of their defense lawyer. Whether a person has actually been charged with break-in, assault, murder, domestic violence, or even a DWI or DUI, a criminal charge and conviction can haunt them for years to come. This is why it is crucial to have the representation of someone with the knowledge, experience, and determination to fight for the offender's rights.

"Although criminal penalties and jail time are hard enough, the way criminal convictions and charges affect the rest of that suspect's life can be equally terrible," said Mr. Bassett. "An offender can be punished and serve their time, and yet for the rest of their life, there is a reminder that they are still looked at a criminal in the eyes of society. A criminal charge can affect an individual's future employment, academic opportunities, professional licenses and accreditations, and participation in particular federal government programs. Each time that individual applies for a task, the prospective employer will look at them differently. A well-crafted criminal defense is vital to secure my customers not just from the criminal penalty itself but likewise these other long-lasting collateral repercussions."

As a former prosecutor, Mr. Bassett has observed the other side of the criminal justice and the way lots of suspects feel they lack power within the system. He has turned his sights to criminal defense so as to help level the playing field and protect the rights of those who have been charged with a crime at either the federal or state level. Both clients and other attorneys continue to offer positive reviews and testimonials concerning their work together.

Norma Lehmann from New York states: "We worked with Jason Bassett. Highly professional and well-worth the reasonable cost of services. Jason was extremely responsive and clearly explained every step. He was very responsive and gave a fantastic defense. He won the case and brought justice to our family. I really recommend him."

In the American legal system, an accused has essential rights under the law, and it is the criminal defense lawyer's job to maintain those rights. With over 21 years in the criminal justice system, Mr. Bassett has devoted his practice to protecting the rights of his clients in and out of the courtroom.
