September 08, 2021

Dallas, Texas - September 08, 2021 -
Widdlytinks.com, an online store selling customizable canvas wall art, has a range of Halloween-themed prints that will appeal to anyone looking for offbeat and innovative Halloween decoration ideas.

Halloween is a holiday that adults and children alike look forward to most of the year. Children are tempted by the prospect of copious amounts of candy that they are gifted when they are out trick-or-treating. Adults find the day to be a fun way to catch up with friends, coworkers, and loved ones in an intimate or public setting. Whatever the plans for Halloween, one might feel the need to be prepared for the holiday by setting up Halloween decorations in the house if they are playing host, or decorating the porch and yard if they want to invite over the children in the neighborhood who are out trick-or-treating.

The commonly sought-after Halloween decorations include plastic skeletons, carved pumpkins, imitation spider webbing, and other novelty items resembling ghouls, witches, zombies, and all other kinds of scary creatures. Widdlytinks wants to challenge the preconceived notions of ideal Halloween decorations and encouraging homeowners to consider the often overlooked option of wall art.

Wall art can set the mood for the holiday by displaying all kinds of ominous messages and images that evoke a sense of dread in the viewer. If the buyer chooses, the designs can also be fun, light, and humorous. While most Halloween decorations take the form of grotesque creations that are meant to be scary, wall art can be designed to express a wide gamut of emotions including fear and levity.

The Halloween signs by Widdlytinks are designed with these considerations in mind. The store offers many different signs that are sure to tickle the fancy of the buyers regardless of the kind of mood they are looking to set with them. The designs are also clean and expressive enough to fit in well with most interior decors. They are easy to hang, clean, and store away once the holiday has ended. Once purchased, these Halloween signs can also be reused year on year, making them a sensible long-term purchase.

The company asks that readers, who might be interested in getting the wall art in time for Halloween, put in their orders as early as possible so as to give it enough time for the order to get printed and shipped out to them in time for the holiday.

The designs are printed on high-quality canvas which doesn?t fade with time, retaining its look. The signs are mounted on dried pine stretcher bars that ensure the frame will not warp or bow over time. The canvas used for printing is a thick, archival grade, poly-cotton blend canvas that will provide great durability. The canvas is pH neutral and acid-free which means that the canvas will not yellow over time.
