Fresno, California ? When Patricia Parr decided to remove a dead redwood tree that stood in her backyard, she called Tree Service Fresno for an estimate. The company was very responsive and forthcoming with information for the entire tree service procedure. The company?s tree service removal Fresno team came out at the agreed time and completed the entire procedure in just 1.5 hours. Impressed with the quality of work and timeliness, Patricia Parr noted that she would not only recommend the company to other homeowners but she would also hire the company again in the future.

Speaking after working with the tree removal company Fresno, Patricia had the following to say, ?I had a dead redwood tree in our back yard that needed to be removed. I called Tree Service Fresno for an estimate. The owner was extremely professional and helpful. Explained the entire process and we set a date and time for the tree removal. They came out at the arranged time. Workers were very polite and efficient. It took them about 1 1/2 hours for the removal. They were extremely skilled and careful with the removal. Workers cleaned up tree debris very well. Quality work and reasonable price. I was very impressed. I will be calling them again in the future. I highly recommend Tree Service Fresno.?

?Dead trees can be compared to ticking time bombs,? said the company's CEO. ?If not removed as soon as possible, they often start decaying from the inside and may end up falling on your home, causing damages worth thousands of dollars. Also, unlike live trees which improve the aesthetic appeal of your commercial or residential property, dead trees take away from your property?s beauty. Getting rid of a dead tree helps you improve safety and also create a space for a new, healthy, and aesthetically appealing tree.?
