October 05, 2021 -
Centorbi Cabinetry is a company that long ago made a name for itself in the St. Louis home improvement marketplace by creating custom cabinet solutions for the general public that are very distinct and unique. Now the company is pleased to announce that it will offer a similar high-quality line of exclusive cabinet products to dealers in the Grand Rapids, Michigan area. These will be marketed under the name of Safina Custom Cabinetry. The Centorbi Cabinetry brand became the preferred choice of many cabinet purchasers in the St. Louis area because its custom cabinet choices are made using only the finest materials that are put together with precision craftsmanship. Dealers in the Grand Rapids area who choose to carry Safina Custom Cabinetry products will quickly come to learn that they have a new cabinet line that easily surpasses big-brand, massed produced cabinetry products in both looks and quality. Many high-resolution photos of what sets this company?s cabinet products apart from others can be seen on the company website at https://www.centorbi.com/.

The company owner, Derek Centorbi, says, ?Since 1995, my coworkers and I have worked hard to bring those in the St. Louis area custom cabinetry products that are clearly a step above the rest. The Centorbi name has now become synonymous with custom cabinets that are uniquely designed, made using only the finest quality wood, and finished in a manner that further separates them from the many other cabinet choices that are out there. Now we are ready for a new challenge that also brings along with it new opportunities. That?s why we are so excited to now be offering Safina Custom Cabinetry to dealers in the Western Michigan area.?

Centorbi went on to say that designing and installing unique custom cabinetry products is more than just a profession for him. It?s a lifelong passion that was first formed by working alongside his expert craftsman and renowned kitchen refinishing grandfather at a very young age. He witnessed firsthand his grandfather?s frequent frustration with the quality of the kitchen cabinet products that were available to use on his remodeling projects. Out of that unpleasant experience, Centorbi Cabinetry was eventually born. It quickly became known as a company that brings true craftsmanship and creativity to the art of cabinetmaking without the unnecessary markup. The company owner added that since the company?s inception, they have worked with residential & commercial clients, designers, builders, and remodelers to create truly custom cabinets that help make home design-related dreams come true. He also said that when they say they design custom cabinets, they really mean it. Hence the company motto, ?If you can dream it, Centorbi can build it?. This includes being able to mix and match such custom cabinet features as door styles & patterns, finishes, organization features, and even specialized design elements. Some great examples of the company?s work can be seen on its Facebook Page at https://www.facebook.com/centorbicabinetry.

Those that have worked with this reputable cabinet maker in St. Louis have had nothing but good things to say about that experience. A representative of the Holden Design Group stated, ?Derek Centorbi is a talented, creative, detail-oriented, outside-the-box cabinet designer and custom cabinet manufacturer. They have endless wood species, finishes, and cabinet styles to select from. If a project warrants it, he will also do custom finishes tailored to your project's specific needs. Derek and his staff are wonderful to work with, great problem-solvers, put out a beautiful product, and are completely trustworthy. They will provide some of the most important pieces in your kitchen or bathroom that will withstand the test of time in both quality and aesthetics. Cheri Hoffman proclaimed, ?Saw Derek Centorbi's work in my friend?s recent kitchen renovation and knew he was my guy. I'm thrilled with my new cabinets; his installers are top-notch and the customer service is five-star. Worth every penny.?
