The Atlanta, GA-based men's health clinic, Choice Men?s Health, is reaching out to share information about their erectile dysfunction and premature ejaculation treatment programs. Choice Men?s Health is committed to providing their community with personalized treatments that can help improve each patient?s sex life.

?While it may seem like a taboo topic,? says Dr. Katz of Choice Men?s Health, ?the truth is that erectile dysfunction and premature ejaculation are commonplace issues that are encountered by a lot of men around the world. There is nothing shameful about either of these issues, and with a little help, both issues can be treated. At Choice Men?s Health, we are passionate about helping men deal with these issues and achieve a healthy and active sex life.?

As the men's health clinic explains, though it becomes more common with age, erectile dysfunction (ED) can happen to men of all ages. More than 30 million men experience ED in the United States alone. Choice Men?s Health clarifies that while ED becomes more common in men that are 40 years old or older, it is not considered a part of aging. However, those who are afflicted with the condition feel its effects even outside of the bedroom. Many feel ashamed of the inability to engage in sexual intercourse with their partner and do not want to talk about it. This can then affect the rest of their lives.

Premature ejaculation, on the other hand, is even more common, with 1 in 3 men having experienced it at some point in their lives. For many men, premature ejaculation can be frustrating and make sex and intimacy less enjoyable for both parties. Premature ejaculation can often lead to a decrease in sexual pleasure and have a negative impact on the sex life of a man and his partner. Men who have experienced premature ejaculation will sometimes try to avoid or limit their sexual encounters.

However, Choice Men?s Health assures that both of these issues can be treated. Choice Men?s Health offers a variety of services and effective treatment plans for medical conditions, such as erectile dysfunction, and premature ejaculation. Dr. Katz says, ?We have an excellent team on hand with years of experience, and we are committed to helping you. With our proven treatment protocols, our medical staff can help improve your sexual health leading to better sexual performance.?

The men's health clinic also understands how sensitive the topic of sexual health is. For this reason, they have designed their facilities to make sure that patients feel fully comfortable and private during their visit. All discussions are held within confidential offices with experts who handle the matter professionally. The treatment options offered by Choice Men?s Health are safe and effective ? and personalized to each patient, ensuring that each patient will find success.

The services offered by the men's health clinic in Atlanta have earned them highly positive reviews from their patients. One reviewer praises them in his Google review, writing that they enjoyed a, ?Good experience overall. I?ve had ED for over 10 years, and they resolved my issue in one hour! What a great way to start this new year! The office was nice and clean, and I didn't have to wait long. So excited to have this part of my life back!?

Meanwhile, another review says, ?I went there on a whim. Heard this radio ad and so I checked it out. A few of them didn't work, so why not. I was not disappointed. They've got some stuff that will fuel a rocket!?
