Adam Roe Painting Ensures Customers Can Trust Their Painting Contractor

October 05, 2021

Meridian, Idaho - October 05, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Adam Roe Painting, a company based in Meridian, Idaho, wants to emphasize that they have assured customers can trust their painting contractor through their stringent hiring policy. First of all, they make sure to only hire highly qualified painters by carefully screening all applicants by requiring drug tests and checking their complete background. In addition, they have made it a policy to hire only employees and no subcontractors will be allowed. And finally, they also make sure that all their employees will be satisfied by providing them with good benefits, insurance, employee appreciation events, and more. More about their hiring policy can be gleaned from <https://arppainting.com/uncategorized/hiring-qualified-painters/>.

“When we hire qualified painters, we don’t just ensure that they have the skills and the knowledge to do the job but we also look for a good work ethic, willingness to learn, reliability, being a team player, and more,” says Risa Roe, VP of Adam Roe Painting. “Searching for the right painters at Adam Roe Painting is a process that we take very seriously. We want to offer our clients the best experience with trusted and qualified workers while also giving our employees competitive pay and great working conditions.”

As Risa Roe has pointed out, being a qualified painter is not just about having the necessary knowledge and skills but also about having the right attitude. This means a painter is someone that a homeowner or business owner can trust inside the home or office premises. This is someone who will always do the work properly even when there is no one present to check on their work. This is also someone who is courteous, patient, and always willing to answer questions from the customer.

Another good reason for customers to be able to trust the painting contractors from Adam Roe Painting is their management team. Adam Roe, the President of the company, grew up in Boise and at the age of 12, he started helping his father in his painting business. That was where he developed a strong work ethic and got interested in the trades so that he established his own business in 1985, providing residential new construction. In 2007, he expanded his business to include industrial, commercial, and food service coatings. He married Risa in 2004 who now serves as VP and Administrative Manager for the company. More information about their management team can be obtained from <https://arppainting.com/our-team/>.

Risa also has a lot of experience working with business owners when she started working for her father at the age of 18 as an office assistant. In that role, she took care of the accounts payable, receivable and invoice/estimate management. She joined Adam's company in December 2010 to help them with regards to office management and business development.

Other members of the management team at Adam Roe Painting are Kenny Dial, who is Operations/Production Manager and who also grew up working in the construction industry; Steve Zacharopolous, who is Chief Estimator and has 28 years of experience in the construction industry, with 20 of those years in the field of painting; and Tamara Dougherty, who is Accountant and worked in the construction industry for more than 21 years.

Adam Roe Painting provides the highest quality painting services, professional preparation and application at the most competitive prices to businesses and homeowners in the Boise, Nampa, Caldwell, Meridian, and Treasure Valley area. Several factors make them stand out among the crowd, such as: Adam's more than 30 years experience in the field of painting; highly qualified staff and painters, who are all employees; assurance that they will work according to the client's preferred schedule; on-site supervision of all crews in the field; excellent safety record; high customer satisfaction ratings; and provision of references and complete business profile upon request.
