Blacktown, NSW (September 2021) - Patioland's history spans over 30 years, starting in the family garage and expanding every year that made them purchase a larger factory at 41 Third Avenue, Blacktown. From a small, rented factory at Bearing Rd Seven Hills with only two employees back then to their current home in 41 Third Avenue Blacktown.

Patioland is now an innovative company specialising in the construction and installation of pergolas, decks, patios, and opening roofs for homes. The skilled team at Patioland also builds custom awnings to protect outdoor living space from rain or sun damage. As a fully licensed building company, they use only the best materials for their products, making them last.

The company's success can be attributed to several factors. It all started when Peter and Ann Doughan, the founders of Patioland, decided to turn their family home into a business. They realised that few companies were offering outdoor living products in Sydney to meet individual needs for customisation options.

The Management's vision is to provide affordable products along with sound advice about how these products will fit into outdoor living space. The company focus on customer service is one of the most important keys to its success.

Patioland aims to provide a product that will suit their customers' individual needs exactly, and this goal is achieved through assertive communication with the company's clients. The management works closely with its customers throughout each building process to ensure that they receive exactly what they want.

The company offers an extensive range of patio solutions that can suit a variety of homes. They specialise in designing and building patios, pergolas, decks, opening roofs, insulated roofing, custom awnings, timber decking and carports.

Patioland's showroom in Blacktown is still closed due to the current situation, but still they are open for business. Clients can visit their website and talk to one of their customer representatives.
