Cape Coral, Florida based company, Phoenix Treasures LLC, has announced the arrival of their Phoenix Coffee Grinders. The company states that their grinders are currently stored in three warehouses across the United States, which will improve their overall delivery time.

"People buying from California won't have to wait for the grinder to be shipped from Florida," declares company spokesperson Robert King. "This gives us more of a centralized location, so everyone will receive their coffee grinder in a very timely manner."

Robert King explains that they have been working on centralizing their shipping methods for quite some time, and now that the grinders are ready, he feels that customers will appreciate the faster delivery time resulting from having three different storage locations. "Who doesn't want to receive their product quickly?" he states. "Our next product is a new French Press Coffee Brewer, and these are ready to ship as well, with the same fast delivery times that our grinders are seeing."

King announced that the coffee brewers are ready for purchase, and should be available to customers in time for their upcoming Christmas shopping. The coffee grinders are available on the Amazon marketplace, and can be viewed at <http://www.amazon.com/dp/B0106JKUUO>. It is an electrically powered grinder that can grind coffee beans as well as spices, nuts, herbs, and grains.

The company points out that the grinder has been designed to be small in size so that it will fit easily on any counter. It includes a cord storage in the base and a free cleaning brush. Phoenix Treasures also provides a one year warranty on all coffee grinder purchases, and declared that due to the increase in the number of storage facilities, many customers could receive their grinder via next day shipping when choosing that option.
