

Widdlytinks Halloween Wall Art Collection Getting Many Rave Reviews

September 20, 2021

Dallas, Texas - September 20, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Widdlytinks is a company that has been making creative and distinctive wall art prints for many years now. All that experience has taught the company that no matter how well it designs, advertises, and displays its decorative art prints, nothing will help them sell better than the positive reviews that customers write about them. This is why the company is very pleased with the large number of glowing reviews it has received on the art pieces that make up its Halloween Wall Art Collection. Something which has contributed to these canvas art prints being used by many customers as part of their spooky Halloween decoration ideas.

A spokesperson for the company, Amy Anderson, stated, "When we first started to talk to people about wanting to create a special Halloween wall print collection, we got many mixed reactions from those people. Some of them thought that this would be a collection of ours that would not sell very well. Thankfully we decided to go through with creating this unique and scary collection of wall art prints because they have been successfully spicing up people's All Hallows Eve parties and other Halloween-related events for many years now. You have to look no further than the reviews that have been left on our Halloween wall art prints to realize how popular this special seasonal art collection has become."

Some of the company's more popular Halloween wall art prints that have received 5-star reviews include Widdlytinks Hocus Pocus Black & White Creepy Skull Art. Reviewer Cherise Jensen stated, "I am so in love with this canvas! I'm buying another one next year and can't wait. I am leaning towards the 'Wicked' canvas." Jensen referred to the "Something Wicked This Way Comes" Halloween Wall Décor which has no less than 19 reviews left on it. All of which rate this scary wall art piece a perfect 5 out of 5-stars. Miles's description of it proclaims, "Beautiful print that we're using in a Halloween party. A little black light really makes this print pop! Great communications and item sent quickly!" Also, well-reviewed is the company's Black Cat Apothecary Vintage Style Halloween Sign. Joan K Henderson's glowing review of this Widdlytink's Halloween canvas wall art piece says, "This print is perfect for one of my many Halloween displays. It's very well made and also shipped very quickly. I really love it. Thank you very much."

Besides their unique looks, there are many other reasons why Widdlytinks Halloween Wall Art Collection is so well-reviewed. This includes these prints, as is the case with all of the wall art by Widdlytinks, being placed on non-yellowing canvas that is made using a thick archival grade, poly-cotton blend material. The frames that the prints are placed on also have dried pine stretcher bars that are designed to prevent warping and bowing. Each of their Halloween wall art prints also has a highly desired 1.5" frame depth and attached sawtooth hanger that makes placing them on a wall very easy.

Anderson also talked about how all of their personalized and non-personalized canvas wall art offers a versatile option that can bring a big impact to any blank wall. Their personalized wall art also makes for unique housewarming, wedding, new baby, Mother's Day, Father's Day, and other types of gifts. Examples of the personalizations that are used on the company's canvas art prints include family names, individual names, and the year that a family was established. Some even include first names and state & city customizations. Other popular collections that Widdlytinks offers include its last name and family name personalized wall signs, rustic wall signs, modern industrial wall signs, vintage style art prints along with Valentine's Day, Christmas, Spring, and Easter-themed wall art. She added that another best-selling collection of theirs is their Christian-themed personalized wall signs. The company has chosen to offer a wide variety of unique designs and to make them available in many different sizes including large formats. All of the art print designs that are available on Widdlytinks have been created with care and attention to detail by an award-winning artist with over 20 years of experience in customizable art print design. This is what makes Widdlytinks artwork so distinctive and exclusive. They have personalized canvas wall signs that are suitable for hanging in both home and business environments too. Also, worth noting is that Widdlytinks canvas wall art is only sold directly to the public via their website and these art pieces include free delivery to all fifty states of the United States of America. The company's products are also 100% USA-made. For more information about Halloween signs by Widdlytinks, customers are always welcome to visit the company website.
