Philadelphia, Pennsylvania ? When Meshack decided to use a hedge to create privacy around his landscape, he contacted Philadelphia Tree Service Experts to determine which bushes and shrubs to use. The company worked with him to understand his goals and then recommended the best plants for an aesthetically appealing hedge.

?After planting the shrubs and bushes while following Philadelphia Tree Service Experts instructions,? said Meshack, ?I looked at them and never thought that they would create the privacy I needed. However, over the last three years, the company?s tree trimming team Philadelphia has been trimming the shrubs, turning them into the privacy screen I have always wanted. What?s more, the shrubs also look aesthetically appealing.?

Speaking after learning about Meshack?s comment, Philadelphia Tree Service Experts chief of field operations had the following to say, ?The quality of a hedge is largely dependent on the quality of trimming. Trim the hedge right and you get an aesthetically appealing privacy screen. Trim the hedges wrong and you end up with an unattractive privacy screen that may have holes everywhere. Our team of tree trimmers has years of experience in trimming hedges ? this experience, combined with our modern tools helped us turn Meshack?s hedge into an attractive ornament.?
