September 24, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Nashville, Tennessee ? When the concrete pavers on the driveway started coming off and leaving large holes, Mr Denis did not realize that one of the trees he had on the property was the culprit. The tree?s roots were growing too close to the surface and were lifting the concrete pavers clean off. It was only after inviting Tree Service Experts Nashville to his home for a tree trimming project that the tree cutting professionals proposed a permanent solution.

?We noticed the problem when we were collecting the waste generated by our tree trimming team Nashville,? said the head of field operations, ?When we asked him about the pavers that were missing on the driveway, he told us that he repairs the driveway every week but the problem did not seem to go away. On checking his trees, we realized that one of his trees was the problem. We suggested removing it to eliminate the damage issues.?

?I agreed immediately,? noted Mr Denis, ?The property damage resulting from the tree had already cost me thousands of dollars. If there was a permanent solution, I was willing to invest in it. When we agreed on the cost of the entire operation, the company was here the next day. They removed the tree together with the stump and even advised me on the tree species I can use as a replacement.?
