

Portrait Photographers In OKC Announce Unique High School Senior Photo Sessions

December 03, 2015

December 03, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

August Photography in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, has announced a new suite of unique photo sessions for high school seniors. Their unique sessions include underwater pictures, and that they can help to customize a photo shoot based on the preferences of students and their parents. "Our goal is to provide the most unique, most memorable senior photos," states Julia August, owner of the photography company. "We want you to go away knowing that these pictures are going to be great, that they're going to be unlike anything else that anyone in your graduating class will have."

The portrait photography provider offers destination senior photos and new underwater photo sessions, which Julia August says are very popular. She explains, "People want unique senior photos. We give them that, and with so many options and choices that we are sure to find the perfect setting." She points out that the company specializes in providing high school senior photography, and travel the southwest searching for the best destinations for these sessions. They offer one hour sessions to all day photo shoots, to ensure that each image is perfect.

Among the new destination packages, the underwater session is gaining the most attention, according to

Julia August. She states that parents and their seniors alike appreciate the uniqueness of the images that come from these underwater sessions, and that they also offer group sessions, including makeup and other necessities.

The company urges those interested in learning more about high school senior pictures in OKC to contact them to schedule a session as soon as possible as they can book up quickly, particularly in light of the new unique settings and packages that they have recently implemented. Seniors or their parents who are interested in booking August Photography can learn more about the sessions that they offer on their official website at <http://yourfantasticphotos.com/oklahoma-high-school-senior-photographer>.

The company also offers a glimpse of the photos that they create on their official Facebook page, which can be found at <https://www.facebook.com/augustseniors>, where those who are interested can also get information about any new destinations or themed sessions that they will be offering in the future.
