Riverside, California ? After having an out-of-control palm tree on his landscape for quite a long time, Walter Welch finally decided to bid the tree farewell. He noted that he did not regret his decision to hire Riverside Tree Service for the procedure.

After working with the tree service company, Walter Welch had the following to say, ?We had a very tall palm tree growing out of control for the past couple years and finally bid farewell to it today. We don't miss the messy seed droppings all over our driveway. They responded to us very quickly and the job was set to be done within the week. They were super friendly and gladly answered any questions. Kudos to Riverside Tree Service! I still cannot believe how fast and efficient these folks completed this project. We can't thank you enough!?

?Although customers call us the best tree removal company Riverside,? said the Riverside Tree Service CEO, ?tree removal is generally not our favorite tree service procedure. Since our goal is to protect this city?s urban forest, we prefer placing tree saving procedures like tree pruning and tree treatment ahead of tree removal. However, in circumstances where trees are outgrowing their allocated space ? like in the case of Welch?s palm tree ? tree removal is the best solution. Using our experienced team and advanced machines, we turn the most complicated tree removals into safe, non-risky procedures.?
