September 30, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Ambrose Law Firm, which is based in Minneapolis, MN, is proud to announce that they have won an expungement case in Anoka County. This was based on Minnesota's new Expungement Law that became effective on January 1, 2015. This is also popularly known as Minnesota's Second Chance Law that provides many people a second chance to clear their criminal records, which was formerly not possible. Under this law, all misdemeanors and gross misdemeanors have the potential to be expunged. There are also certain felony offenses that are eligible for expungement.

Robert Ambrose, owner and attorney-at-law at Ambrose Law Firm, says, "Our mission is to protect his clients' constitutional rights, all while attaining utmost client satisfaction and being respectful to the court and opposing counsel. We provide affordable, aggressive, and understanding representation. In all cases, the individual seeking to get their criminal record cleared (or expunged) must be crime free for a period of time after the sentence is complete - unless the case resulted in a dismissal or acquittal."

Even in those cases where someone was not convicted of the crime charged, there are still records that remain with the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension (BCA). The firm has even observed cases where an individual was never charged, or arrested for, but it may appear on a BCA background check just because that particular person was merely investigated for it.

Ambrose Law Firm has several practice areas. These include: driving while impaired (DWI) / driving under the influence (DUI); criminal vehicular operation (CVO) and criminal vehicular homicide (CVH); assaults, from misdemeanor assault to felony assault; drug crimes, from misdemeanor possession of marijuana in a motor vehicle to felony sales of a controlled substance; fraud / theft / financial crimes, from shoplifting to financial transaction fraud and embezzlement; probation violations for misdemeanor, gross misdemeanor, and felony probation; juvenile law where juvenile court representation for different offenses, such as underage consumption of alcohol and drug possession; and expungement motions to clear / seal criminal records and history.

Ambrose Law Firm has developed an excellent reputation when it comes to defending people charged with DWI and DUI in Minneapolis and even across the state of Minnesota. This has even resulted in the American Institute of DWI / DUI Attorneys naming Robert Ambrose as one of the "Ten Best" DWI lawyers in Minnesota with regards to client satisfaction. Furthermore, the Lead Counsel Review Board has given Attorney Ambrose Lead Counsel Status in DWI Defense due to his reputation and experience in this particular area of law.

Attorney Ambrose also has significant experience in defending individuals charged with CVO. He usually consults with forensic scientists and accident reconstruction experts to be able to provide the best possible defense. In relation to this, he also provides defense for those charged with CVD, which is a felony offense and punishable by up to 10 years imprisonment and a $20,000 fine. The CVD charge is possible for an individual who caused the death of a person not constituting manslaughter or murder as a result of driving a motor vehicle in a negligent manner and/or while under the influence of alcohol or a controlled substance.

Ambrose Law Firm also has experience in defending an individual charged with assault. The types of assault cases that he handles include domestic assault, fifth degree assault, fourth degree assault, third degree assault, second degree assault, and first degree assault.

Founded in 2015 by Robert Ambrose, Ambrose Law Firm benefits from his experience of working almost four years for one of the most reputable criminal defense lawyers in Minnesota. His noteworthy experience in the fields of criminal and DWI defense provides him with the ability to zealously advocate for the benefit of his clients.
