Long Island, NY-- Being charged with a criminal offense in New York can have major repercussions. Few people are more aware of this better than Long Island criminal defense attorney Jason Bassett. The effects of a criminal conviction could be dire and can in some cases even change the trajectory of an individual's whole life. Mr. Bassett believes that nobody needs to deal with the criminal justice system on their own and without the benefit of a knowledgeable and experienced criminal defense lawyer.

As a knowledgeable criminal defense attorney, Mr. Bassett understands that the quality of criminal defense that an individual gets after they are charged with a crime can make a significant difference. Whether the charges get dismissed, reduced, a plea deal is offered, or if they end up in jail or prison and for how long, can frequently depend on the work of their defense lawyer. Whether a person has actually been charged with robbery, assault, homicide, domestic violence, or perhaps a DWI or DUI, a criminal charge and conviction can haunt them for years to come. This is why it is important to have the representation of someone with the knowledge, experience, and perseverance to fight for the accused's rights.

"While criminal penalties and prison time are difficult enough, the way criminal charges and convictions impact the rest of the suspect's life can be similarly terrible," stated Mr. Bassett. "An accused can be penalized and serve their time, and yet for the rest of their life, there is a reminder that they are still looked at a criminal in society's eyes. A criminal charge can impact a person's future work, educational opportunities, professional licenses and accreditations, and participation in specific federal government programs. Each time that individual looks for a task, the prospective company will look at them differently. A well-crafted criminal defense is important to safeguard my customers not only from the criminal punishment itself but also these other long-lasting collateral consequences."

A former prosecutor, Mr. Bassett has witnessed the other side of the criminal justice and the way lots of defendants feel they lack power within the system. He has since turned his sights to criminal defense in order to help level the playing field and protect the rights of those who may have been charged at both the federal or state level. Both clients and other attorneys continue to provide favorable testimonials and reviews concerning their work together.

Emmerich Apple from Long Island states: "Jason is not only an excellent criminal lawyer but also a great guy. He is attentive to his client's needs and works efficiently. He is true to his words. If he says he will do it, he will. His honesty and integrity are evident in his work. I would recommend him to friends and family."

In the US legal system, an accused has crucial rights, and it is the criminal defense attorney's task to maintain those rights. With more than 21 years in the criminal justice system, Mr. Bassett has dedicated his practice to safeguarding the rights of his clients in and out of the courtroom.
