Saint James City, Florida - October 08, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

St. James City, Florida based Gerard's Tree Service would like to reach out to homeowners and businesses in the area that may be in search of a reliable arborist. The company, which is owned by Gerard Cicoria (an ISA certified arborist with years of experience in tree care), specializes in mangrove trimming. While these trees are native to Florida, their numbers have decreased greatly over the past century, so they are now subject to strict state regulations when they need to be trimmed. This is why a qualified tree service specialist with years of experience is always the right person for any mangrove trimming job.

?In Lee County, FL, residential and commercial customers can turn to Gerard's Tree Service in St. James City, FL,? the tree care company says. ?Owner Gerard Cicoria is a professional mangrove trimmer in the state of Florida, and he can expertly handle all mangrove trimming needs. Our team works hard on every project to give our customers effective, attractive results. There are strict rules and regulations in Florida about trimming mangroves. It is best to hire a tree service certified in mangrove trimming, as we know the ins, out and intricacies of the law. We strongly believe that mangrove trimming regulations are a good thing, as relatively few acres of mangroves remain. Mangroves are vital parts of the Florida coastline, given the fact that they hinder erosion, absorb storm surges and stabilize the coastal ecosystem.?

The company takes special care in their mangrove trimming, using only the most advanced tools and techniques in all their work. Their team cares for mangroves and takes every possible step to ensure that even the tiniest details are attended to. As a result, their customers in St. James City, FL can be sure that the company will respect their property while working on their mangroves. As local mangrove specialists, Gerard's is always able and willing to provide excellent, reliable service.

?Trees are special,? says the Pine Island tree service. ?They decorate a yard. They provide cool shade on a hot day. They provide entertainment for adventurous kids. They really can become like members of the family. So when people need work performed on their trees, they want a true professional. They want a tree service company with the expertise, experience and respect to lovingly care for their trees just like they do. In Lee County, FL, that tree service company is Gerard's Tree Service in St. James City, FL. We are a licensed, insured and certified arborist, providing exceptional tree removal, tree trimming and stump grinding. We serve both residential and commercial clients. Our expertise in mangrove trimming also makes us an essential part of many property management schemes.?

The company is made up of highly skilled professionals. Gerard Cicoria is a Pine Island resident who has nearly 30 years? worth of experience working with trees of all kinds. He is ISA certified and qualified in mangrove trimming. He is also a highly experienced climber, making him very good at reaching places that most would have a great deal of trouble accessing. The other half of the Gerard?s Tree Service team is Ben Armstrong. Armstrong is also a Pine Island native, and he has over three decades? worth of experience in native trimming and shaping. He is also a talented equipment operator whose skills often come in handy during storm cleanup operations.

The company also offers a range of other services in addition to mangrove trimming in the Pine Island and St. James City areas, such as tree removal, stump grinding, tree trimming and wildfire mitigation.
