

StructureM Offers Coaching Session with Top Ranked Sales Leader, David Gullotti

October 11, 2021

Broken Arrow, Oklahoma - October 11, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

StructureM, a company based in Broken Arrow, OK, is offering a 45-minute coaching session for contractors that will allow them to weather out the big swings in the economy that puts them in a stressful feast or famine situation. The free coaching session with David Gullotti from StructureM is designed to help business leaders in the contracting industry survive the storms and thrive. Dave Gullotti has more than 20 years of experience in the contracting industry and has successfully grown a number of 8-figure companies. He understands how lonely it is to be at the top and how challenging it is to get all the important parts of a business working at their optimum at the same in order to build a long-lasting company. More about this coaching session can be found here:

Hilary Leal, a spokesperson for StructureM, says, "Many contractors feel stuck, in a rut and don't know where to turn for advice or help with growing their business successfully and profitably. Our coaching session is offered by a top sales leader in the industry. We listen to each specific need and problem and then give advice or insight into how improvements can be made. With so much experience in this area, Dave has seen and heard it all and is able to really give first-hand advice to contractors.?

The coaching session is a $250 value that is being offered for free to qualified individuals. In order to apply, those interested must confirm that they meet certain criteria and then fill out the online form. StructureM will then follow up those who applied and get their session scheduled. Dave will be asking key questions and provide valuable insights for each participant based on their specific situation.

The criteria for being able to join the coaching session includes: annual revenue of more than $2 million; commitment to significantly increasing their company's profit and revenue; that their company has been established and the leader has a marathon, rather than a sprint, mentality; and their company has a good reputation overall in their community. StructureM helps contractors and franchisors build a more durable company through various ways, including: the Growth Index, execution, and reporting. The Growth Index serves as a one-of-a-kind tool that shows business leaders the steps they need to take in order to speed up their growth. It can serve as a guide on how to use the company's funds and team's time to achieve the best possible ROI.

Proper execution means things are being done right. Business leaders need to work with a team that works passionately every day to execute their established growth plan. With this strategy, business leaders will be able to witness more developments in just weeks than they have likely seen in years.

And with the appropriate reporting, business leaders will know exactly what is going on. This involves the use of detailed monthly reports, real-time dashboards, and regular calls with their Account Strategist to allow them to be well informed on what matters most.

To work with StructureM, business leaders simply need to follow some simple steps. First, they need to schedule a free strategy session by giving them a call or filling out the online form. Second, because every business is unique, they will receive a customized growth plan and get help in enhancing key areas of the business. And finally, the clients will be able to build their business into a machine that allows them to reach their goals more quickly.

Founded about 10 years ago, StructureM has the goal of helping contractors and franchisors boost their revenue in both good times and bad times. They have already provided the necessary guidance and assistance to more than 200 business owners and marketing managers since they have started. They are ready to help business owners and marketing managers finally stop wasting their money and time on marketing that doesn't work but instead, increases their revenue by 15 to 50 percent annually.

Those interested in learning more about the services provided by StructureM can check out their website at <https://www.structurem.com/>, or contact them on the phone or through email. They are open from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm, from Monday to Friday.
