October 15, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Waco Financial, an Ohio based financing company, is celebrating 28 years in the mobile home loan industry, and a brand new loan app that allows those seeking manufactured home loans to apply through a mobile device. The company has invited all interested consumers to visit them online at www.wacofinancial.com, where more information can be found on qualification, loan types, and the loan application process. The company has said the following regarding their work within this industry: "Manufactured home financing is a highly specialized field. To do it right, to do it fast, requires a detailed knowledge of how these transactions work. We've been successfully helping our clients since 1987. Waco Financial offers financing for singlewide and doublewide homes in mobile home parks, on leased lots, family land and in most situations where the home will not be deeded as real property."

After 28 years in the mobile home loan industry, Waco Financial attributes much of its success to loyal clients, and urges newcomers to check out "our reviews" online. This section of the site allows previous customers to provide a rating using a star system, as well as present a description of their experiences with the company. This is one of the many ways that the company hopes to display their unique method of customer service. One satisfied client, Chris R., writes: "I cannot say enough about Waco. They have outstanding customer service. Connie walked me through every step. My anxiety was low because she spoke to me about everything in a way I could understand, Wayne was a pleasure to work with. Very professional, but funny. Thank you Waco for your help."

Through a variety of tools, some of which assist users in completing their loan application, with others providing a detailed loan checklist, the company has made it very clear that their clients come first. The latest addition made to provide a higher level of convenience among applicants includes the new mobile app for manufactured home loans. With so much of the world utilizing more modern forms of technology and mobile devices for everyday transactions, Waco Financial has reported that they hope to find an increase in communication and mobile home loans through this additional feature.
