ProVetria Offers Probiotics For Dogs For Superior Digestive Support

October 16, 2015 -
Florida based pet product company ProVetria has announced that better digestion is provided for pets with its probiotic formula that includes nucleotides. The powder is presented as an alternative to pills and oils, which pets may reject due to poor taste or consistency. It is pointed out that the powder can be easily hidden in pet food or dissolved in pet water. The company advises: "Nucleotides help increase the number of beneficial probiotics to aid in the control of loose stools, constipation, allergy symptoms, inflammatory bowel disease - IBD - and other health stressors."

The product is currently available through the company's online retail channel, located at http://www.amazon.com/Probiotic-Formula-Nucleotides-Digestive-Support/dp/B00O28C8H4. Here customers can purchase the probiotics and learn more about the active ingredients that have been observed to aid in the prevention of gas, diarrhea, and upset stomachs in dogs. ProVetria explains: "Just like you, your four-legged companions can feel the effects of dietary and environmental changes. Eating processed foods and over-indulging in treats can leave him with an upset tummy and diarrhea due to low levels of naturally occurring good bacteria. Probiotics are clinically proven to aid with these digestive troubles. When you add in nucleotides to speed up cell repair to the probiotics that promote the growth and proliferation of beneficial bacteria, you replace what might be missing in your dog's belly."

The company's web page at http://provetria.com/probiotics-for-dogs/ also offers some further insight into the background of ProVetria and their work with canine probiotics. The information provided focuses on the ingredients, dosage, and usage, for a better understanding of how the nucleotides work to repair damage and prevent further digestive trauma in pets. Additional support for the treatment can be seen in the company's YouTube video at https://youtu.be/UgNke0oMKTg.

The powder can be used on both puppies and adult dogs, and is able to be used in conjunction with antibiotics and other vet prescribed treatments as recommended by individual veterinarians. While the company stands behind the product, and has reported it to be the top probiotic treatment of its kind on the market today, ProVetria also recommends that all pet owners confer with a veterinarian before making any major changes to a pet's diet.
