Long Island, NY-- Being charged with criminal activity in New York can have severe repercussions. Few people know this better than Long Island federal criminal lawyer Jason Bassett. The effects of a criminal conviction could be dire and can in some cases even alter the trajectory of a person's whole life. Mr. Bassett believes that nobody needs to deal with the criminal justice system on their own and without the benefit of a proficient and experienced criminal defense attorney.

As a knowledgeable federal criminal lawyer, Mr. Bassett knows that the quality of criminal defense that an individual gets after they are charged with a criminal offense can make a significant difference. Whether the charges get dismissed, downgraded, a plea deal is presented, or if they wind up in jail or prison and for how long, can frequently depend on the work of their defense attorney. Whether an individual has actually been charged with robbery, assault, homicide, domestic violence, or perhaps a DWI or DUI, a criminal charge and conviction can haunt them for years to come. This is why it is critical to have the representation of someone with the knowledge, experience, and determination to fight for the offender's rights.

"Although criminal penalties and jail time are difficult enough, the way criminal convictions and charges affect the rest of that defendant's life can be similarly terrible," said Mr. Bassett. "A defendant can be penalized and serve their time, and yet for the rest of their life, there is a reminder that they are still looked at a criminal in the eyes of society. A criminal charge can affect an individual's future employment, academic opportunities, professional licenses and accreditations, and involvement in particular government programs. Each time that individual makes an application for a task, the prospective company will take a look at them differently. A well-crafted criminal defense is crucial to safeguard my customers not only from the criminal penalty itself but also these other long-lasting collateral repercussions."

A former prosecutor, Mr. Bassett has seen the other side of the criminal justice and the way numerous suspects feel they are without power within the system. He has turned his sights to criminal defense so as to level the playing field and safeguard the rights of those who may have been charged at both the state and federal levels. Both clients and other attorneys continue to provide favorable reviews and testimonials when it comes to their work together.

Maurine Bergstrom from Long Island states: "This law firm is exceptional. Jason Bassett, an outstanding DWI attorney, will take excellent care of you. The best thing about the law firm is its entire staff. They all work together and respond quickly to any questions. This was a great relief during a difficult time in my life."

In the US legal justice system, an offender has essential rights, and it is the criminal defense attorney's task to support those rights. With more than 21 years in the criminal justice system, Mr. Bassett has devoted his practice to securing the rights of his clients in and out of the courtroom.
