

Orange County Roofing Experts Announce New Services

October 20, 2015

October 20, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Costa Mesa, California based company, Orange County Roofing Experts, has announced a suite of services for area home and business owners. The company offers residential and commercial repair and replacements for roofs.

Rich Masters, spokesperson for the company, states, "It has always been our pleasure to provide customers with the best in quality products and service. We're proud to be offering a host of services to Orange County and outlying areas."

Masters revealed that the company is now providing commercial roof replacement and roof repair, and that they work in conjunction with a number of well-known roofing product companies. In addition to repairs and replacements, the company also provides roofing services for new construction, for both residential and commercial structures. They work with a number of builders in Orange County, providing roofing for offices, schools, and other structures.

"We have years of experience in our field," explains Rich Masters. "During the period that we've been in business, we have served literally thousands of homes, and always ensure complete satisfaction in every job we undertake."

Masters states that they use only high quality and durable roofing products and supplies, and only those that are Orange County County approved. They keep equipment updated and ensure that their staff is educated in any new technology related to their industry. He says that they employ only highly trained and experienced installers, to ensure customers are completely satisfied.

The company provides steep slope roofing systems as well as composition and wooden shingles, standing seam metal roofs, shakes, tile roofs, and others. And aside from roofing services for homes and businesses, they also provide gutter repairs and installations. Rich Masters states that commercial or residential customers can contact the company to receive an evaluation and quote for any project that they undertake. Construction companies can also contact them for a quote for new construction roofing and gutter installation.

More about Orange County Roofing Experts, including a complete list of the new services that they are offering, can be seen on the company's official website. Home and business owners can also use the website to contact the company for a project quote.
