Highly Anticipated 2021 Volkwagen ID4 Arrives In Vancouver

October 21, 2021

October 21, 2021 -
BC based Vancouver Volkswagen is extremely pleased to announce the launch of the long awaited 2021 Volkswagen ID.4. This vehicle is currently on display to the public at Vancouver Volkswagen, and the dealership invites all in their community to stop by their showroom to see it for themselves. Both the ID.4 Pro and ID.4 AWD Pro can be reserved through the dealership's official website as well. More information is available here: https://www.vancouvervolkswagen.com/new-vehicles/id-4/.

One of the largest draws of this compact SUV is that it is a full electric vehicle (EV) that boasts several next-generation features that drivers and passengers may be accustomed to expect from more traditionally-powered offerings. For instance, the Volkswagen ID.4 boasts a luxury interior that is an excellent representation of Volkswagen?s ability to lean into the future while sustaining a timeless, classic quality. It also boasts up to 1,818 litres of cargo space, making long drives through the picturesque countryside and mountain roads a breeze for lone drivers as well as families, especially given that the Volkswagen ID.4 allows an impressive electric range of 400 kilometres.

Allthough a Rear-wheel drive option is available, the All-wheel drivetrain has been overwhelmingly popular in the lead-up to release, with the latter delivering up to 302 hp for quick acceleration. The ID.4 AWD Pro also comes with Adaptive Cruise Control (ACC) with Stop N' Go functionality. ACC is a natural yet intelligent progression of cruise control, enabling the vehicle to maintain the speed set by the driver as well as adapt to evolving traffic conditions to a certain degree. Newer generations of ACC are able to take route data and speed limits into consideration as well, changing speed ahead of bends, roundabouts and so on as necessary. Chris Lane of Vancouver Volkswagen invites the local community of Volkswagen drivers (or those hoping to join the family) to stop by the dealership to explore the ID.4 Pro in person, complete with a full tour of these vehicles? impressive features. The dealership prides itself on maintaining a high standard of customer service and offering an unparalleled purchase experience, and the team looks forward to showing Volkswagen aficionados that the ID.4 delivers on all their expectations.

Ion Enescu elaborates on the dealership?s approach to customer service in their review, which says, ?I was very happy with the fast and professional assistance from the service advisor Jacky Chen. He booked my wheel alignment on the same day and he managed to have it done one hour before the estimated time. I was impressed by the promptness and the quality of his service. I would recommend his and his team services to any Volkswagen owner. Thanks, Jacky!? Posted on the company?s Google profile, this review (and many others) award the company a perfect 5-Star rating for their services.

An excerpt from a review by Andrew H. offers more insight on why the company is considered an essential part of local buyers? routines. It says that a member of the Vancouver Volkswagen team, ?promptly ordered all the necessary parts and had them installed under warranty in an extremely timely fashion and completed a regenerative drive for me. He kept up 1 on 1 text communication with me throughout the entire process and never had me guessing on anything. Once everything was ready, he called me right away to let me know my car was available for pick up. He was friendly, professional and punctual: everything one would want out of a service specialist. Any future repairs or maintenance needed on my Jetta will be done through Matt and the rest of the Vancouver Volkswagen service crew.?

Vancouver residents are advised to contact Vancouver Volkswagen to pursue any further inquiries about the 2021 Volkswagen ID.4.
