October 25, 2021 -
Austin, Texas ? Yesterday, Austin Tree Services welcomed Mr. Justin Jones to its team. Justin Jones is a professional landscaper with more than 40 years of experience. The company plans to use Justin?s services to improve the aesthetic appeal of commercial properties.

?In Austin city,? said the Austin Tree Services CEO, ?commercial properties are visited by a large number of people daily. With numerous eyes inspecting the properties? curb appeal, most commercial property owners hire our Austin tree trimming team to improve their tree?s aesthetic appeal. While our team has been doing a commendable job improving the properties, we have always felt like we could do more. This is why we had to add a professional with years of landscaping experience to our team.?

The Austin Tree Services CEO noted that the landscaping needs for commercial properties often varied significantly from the needs of residential properties. He noted that while residential properties were only exclusive to a maximum of one family, the commercial properties were supposed to satisfy thousands of people.

?When we are trimming trees on a residential property,? said the Austin Tree Services CEO. ?The only person we need to satisfy is the homeowner. All that our team of tree cutting professionals in Austin needs to do is talk to the homeowner to get the ideas that he/she would like to implement. Working on commercial properties, however, is another story ? you need to satisfy beauty ideas belonging to thousands. What?s more, you will never get the chance to talk to all the people who visit the commercial properties to understand what they would like to see when they look at the trees.?

The CEO noted that working with someone as experienced as Justin Jones will provide the company?s team of qualified professionals with numerous ideas to work with. Having worked on thousands of commercial properties over the years, Justin Jones knows how to create landscape designs that different types of people can look at and be proud.

A reporter interviewed Mr. Justin Jones to gauge his level of experience. From what the team gathered, it was very clear that Austin Tree Services had the potential to build better-looking commercial landscapes with Justin on their side.

?I got into landscaping when I was just 18 years old,? Justin Jones said. ?I started following my father around in the streets of Austin as he was working to get his landscaping company off the ground. When my father?s company failed to gain traction and he abandoned it for what he called ?better ideas?, I left Austin and went to California to see if I could make it as a landscaper. Luck was on my side as I was soon working with a major landscaping company in Los Angeles. For the past 4 decades, the company I was working with took me to thousands of commercial properties where we were supposed to tailor new approaches for landscape maintenance.?

Justin noted that his previous employer soon realized his eye for detail and promoted him to a managerial position. By the time he retired last year, Justin had helped his previous company gain thousands of positive testimonials from happy commercial property owners.

?After retiring,? said Justin Jones, ?I decided to come back home and see if I can help this city make its commercial properties more aesthetically appealing. I received a call from Austin Tree Services after just two days of being in Austin. The CEO of the company wanted to know if I could work with his team. I was more than happy to work with Austin Tree Services.?
