Revival Products Inc, a manufacturer of doctor-formulated soy protein products, is offering a range of bariatric friendly shakes, bars, and chips that meet the FDA?s criteria for heart-healthy soy foods.

Bariatric surgery is a common term collectively used for many types of weight-loss surgeries that make changes to a person?s digestive system to help them lose weight. It is often considered the first major step to successful weight loss. The surgery should be followed by a change in lifestyle that involves mindful eating habits and careful, measured meal preparation. Doctors recommend that those who have had bariatric surgery move to smaller portions and watch the proteins that they consume. Ideally, the daily protein intake should have minimal sugars and fats and should be easy for the stomach to break down.

Revival Soy?s range of bariatric-friendly products fulfills these requirements and helps those who have undergone bariatric surgery meet their daily protein intake. The company?s bars and shakes offer 20 grams of protein and around 160 milligrams of isoflavones per serving. The chips contain around 7grams of protein and 70% less fat than typical potato chips per serving. To top it all off, the company says that its products are also formulated to taste great.

The range of bariatric friendly products from Revival Soy includes BBQ Blast Baked Protein Chips - 4.5oz Bag, Cheddar Cheese Intense Baked Protein Chips - 4.5oz Bag, Revival Chocolate DAYDREAM Soy Shake 15 pk, Revival Vanilla PLEASURE Soy Shake 15 pk, Revival Cappuccino COMFORT Soy Shake 15 pk, Revival Strawberry SMILE Soy Shake 15 pk, Revival Strawberry/Banana BLISS Soy Shake 15 pk, Revival Banana BLESSINGS Soy Shake 15 pk, Revival Blueberry BLUSH Soy Shake 15 pk, Revival JUST PEACHY Soy Shake 15 pk, Shake Variety Pack, Revival Low-Carb Chocolate Peanut PARADISE Bar 15 pk, Revival Low-Carb Autumn Apple FROST Bar 15 pk, Revival Cool Refreshment Splashing Grape Protein, and Revival Cool Refreshment. A spokesperson for the company talks about its range of bariatric-friendly products by saying, ?Those who are trying to make positive changes in their lives by undergoing bariatric surgery need all the support and help they can get to make sure they stick to their newfound healthy lifestyle. It is more than just surgery. It is a change in mindset that will inform how one eats, how they spend their time, and how active they choose to be during the day. We are confident that our products will fit in nicely with your brand new routine, giving you the boost that you need on a daily basis. So when you are ready to take the next step and take control of your life, remember Revival Soy and know that our products will be available for you to make the most out of your new life.?

The company?s soy health shakes are naturally concentrated to provide approximately the same amount of isoflavones as about 6 cups of typical soy milk. The soy shakes can be paired with any conventional diet. The use of authentic ingredients such as real cocoa, vanilla, strawberries, and peaches give them a full flavor and the end result is a smooth and creamy drink that can satisfy cravings between meals. There are 8 flavors to choose from and the company even offers a variety pack to try them out before picking a favorite.

The soy shakes are not sold in stores. There are low-carb versions also available. Most of the flavors are offered in 3 sweetener options namely Fructose, Sucralose, and Unsweetened. The soy shakes are certified genetically-pure soy (non-GMO) and have certified isoflavone levels. They have a clinically-proven low-glycemic index which means that they do not cause rapid blood sugar rise. All flavored shakes contain at least 600 milligrams of bone-healthy calcium to help reduce the risk of osteoporosis. The shakes are gluten-free, lactose-free, kosher, and vegan.
