

Salvage Yard in Milton, FL is Hiring an Automotive Disassembly Technician

October 25, 2021

October 25, 2021 -

Milton, Fla. ? Since opening its doors in 1977, Butler?s Auto Recycling, a salvage yard in Milton, FL, has been recognized as a leader in its industry and community by numerous organizations. They are currently accepting applications for a permanent full-time automotive disassembly technician position.

Due to the busy nature of the shop, the right person for the technician position is someone who knows how to maximize their time and is familiar with and equipped to remove drivetrains. Candidates will have the opportunity to work on a wide variety of manufacturers, rather than disassembling the exact same model again and again, which provides more opportunities for growth. Having experience with heavy equipment is also a plus. Additionally, the position will need to be filled by someone that can fit in well with the close-knit team at Butler?s Auto Recycling, as they are not simply looking for someone to fill a seat.

The automotive disassembly technician position has a pay scale ranging from $700 to $1200 per week, which will be determined according to the candidate's skill level. Butler?s Auto Recycling also offers a wide range of competitive benefits, including flexible schedules, paid holidays, 401K match, tool-purchasing program, team-goal giveaways, as well as many other monthly perks.

Butler's Auto Recycling seeks to provide the community with a wide selection of quality used auto parts. It is their goal to conduct business with the highest level of integrity and excellence, so they make it a priority to place the right people on their team. To apply for the automotive disassembly technician position, visit Butler's Auto Recycling's Facebook page and view their recent post regarding the position.
