FRoffice Coworking, a company based in Budapest, Hungary, wants to inform businesses that they are offering coworking offices for rent in the Hungarian capital. These are office spaces that can be used as temporary offices that feature several amenities that are useful for various kinds of people, including freelancers, startup entrepreneurs, and including employees who require a temporary office in Budapest. These coworking spaces can be utilized as coaching rooms, meeting rooms, community offices, or just workstations. Those who rent will have their own keys, ensuring they have access to the offices 24 hours a day, and also during weekends.

A representative for FRoffice Coworking says, ?If you have not rented a room that works in this way before, you will be surprised how comfortable it is. The offices are furnished with the most up-to-date yet functional furniture, and everything in the communal area is given so that you can take a breather between two meetings or tasks. In our fully equipped, mechanized kitchen you can prepare your lunch, make coffee for your guests or have tea with colleagues at rest. Even in the greatest summer heat, you will be greeted by pleasant, air-conditioned temperatures. If you want to refresh yourself or jump out during the day to play sports, you can perfectly clean yourself in our showered washbasins. You can also request cleaning for the rented room on demand, so you will really have nothing else to do but focus on the work and keep in mind the satisfaction of your customers.?

The whole building of office spaces has a total usable area of 257 square feet. Businesses are assured that their coworking space will be available and ready to use whenever they are ready to use them to do some work. Business owners and employees can gain entry to the building at any time of the day at any day of the week because they will have their own keys.

The coworking spaces provided have their own amenities that are commonly found in conventional offices. These amenities include office equipment for printing, photocopying, and other work-related activities. The meeting rooms have a flipchart and big screen TV that are useful for business presentations. The meeting rooms have a capacity of 8 to 10 people. Also available is a mastermind room that is provided with comfortable furniture for people to use during training sessions, meetings, and workshops. There is also a coaching room for one-one-one motivational talks and coaching.

For the clients of businesses using this coworking space facility, several conveniences are available for them, including a community area, air conditioning, a fully equipped kitchen with appliances, restrooms with showers, and cleaning on demand. For professionals, there are various tools of the trade for the smooth performance of everyday office tasks, including fast and secure Wi-Fi network, IT instruments, and flip-charts. Meanwhile, security professionals with vast experience are responsible for the safety of the facility. They use lockable safes for safekeeping of valuables, alarm systems, and full video surveillance. Easy parking is available for just a nominal fee.

Meanwhile, businesses who are interested in renting a desk, room, or office space will need to pay a reservation fee. Payment must be given at least 48 hours before the scheduled use of the office space, room, or desk. Should there be any unexpected changes in the schedule, clients can get a complete refund as long as they inform FRoffice Coworking two weeks before. If the company is informed only a week before the scheduled date and time, a 50 percent refund will be given. However, if the notification is made less than a week before, there will be no refund.

Those who would like to learn more about renting a coworking office or just a workstation in Budapest can check out the FRoffice Coworking website, or contact them on the telephone or through email. The office's address in Budapest is 14 Lehel Street, 1134 and their telephone number is +36 1 701 0849 and they can be contacted via their email address at info@froffice.hu.
