Dallas, Texas - October 28, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Widdlytinks is a company that has done a great job creating seasonal and holiday decorative wall prints that have a way of spicing up the occasion they are purchased for. There is no better example of this than the company's Halloween wall art collection. A collection that has gained tremendously in popularity every year since it was first offered. Amy Anderson, a company representative says, "For our customers that wonder why we like to create seasonal and holiday wall art prints, let's just say that we enjoy getting in on the fun. There is no collection of ours that we have more fun with than our Halloween wall prints. We thoroughly enjoy it when our customers share their photos of how they used our prints to enhance their Halloween decoration ideas. Our customers can expect us to keep the fun going by adding more Halloween wall art to this popular collection in the future."

Those that are looking for Halloween wall art that is unique and distinct will have no trouble finding it with the diversity this holiday collection offers. That includes non-personalized prints such as their Anatomical Skeleton Vintage Halloween Art Sign and personalized prints such as their Industrial Gothic Family "Boolevard" Halloween Sign with Family Name. Some of the prints in their Halloween collection are also simply stated such as their Black & White October 31 Spider Art Sign and there are wordier options such as their Black Cat Apothecary Vintage Style Halloween Sign. Anderson pointed out that among the most popular in their Halloween Wall Art Collection are the Stay Forever Dead and Breakfast Sign, the Hocus Pocus Black & White Creepy Skull Art Sign, and the Spooky Old Salem Cemetery Halloween Sign. She added that there really is not a bad choice in this entire Halloween decorative print collection. Each has a way of setting the tone for Halloween-themed rooms in a way that no plastic pumpkin, hanging skeleton, or monster standup can.

Although Anderson says the Halloween signs by Widdlytinks have become very popular since they were first introduced, they have many other in-demand seasonal and holiday offerings too. This includes their Valentine's Day signs, Christmas signs, and Spring & Easter wall art. These nicely complement their year-round decorative art prints such as their modern industrial wall signs, vintage style wall art, rustic farmhouse décor, and Christian-themed personalized wall signs. All of their highly popular wall prints have been created with care and attention to detail by the trained eye of their award-winning artist with over 20 years of experience in personalized wall art design. The fact that many of the company's prints can be personalized also makes them great for gift giving that can be passed down to future generations. Examples of the way they can be Personalized include last name, date established, city, and more. Since they are personalized, this also makes Widdlytinks wall art highly appropriate for gift giving on such occasions as weddings, housewarmings, baby showers, Father's Day, anniversaries, and Mother's Day. These specially created wall art pieces are suitable for home and business placement and because they are personalized each one is incredibly unique.

There is more to like about Widdlytinks wall art too. This includes that each decorative print is mounted on archival-grade polycotton blend canvas that is acid-free and will not fade or yellow over time. Each also comes mounted on its own frame and that frame has pine stretcher bars in place to keep it from warping. Anderson says that all of their prints are available in large and small sizes and free shipping anywhere in the United States is included with the purchase. It's also worth noting that Widdlytinks will only sell their unique and distinct decorative art prints to those that reside in the USA. Those that want to know more about wall art by Widdlytinks can get that information from their website along with seeing quality photos of each art print. She added that their prints can also easily be ordered right from that same website.
