

Only Provence Expands Operations To Include Real Estate For Sale In Provence

October 26, 2015

October 26, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Los Angeles, California based company Only Provence has recently announced an expansion. As one of the leading providers of luxury villa rentals in Provence, France, the company is now expanding its operations to include real estate sales.

For the past decade, Only Provence has focused uniquely on carefully growing its portfolio of distinct luxury vacation properties, which is now a collection of well-over 160 properties located near Provence's most notable villages. Known for their high standards and only accepting homes with the ideal balance of authenticity, charm, amenities and staff, Only Provence is proud of its "best in class" reputation in Provence. They state that moving ahead into selling properties is something that has always been in the back of their minds, from the very beginning.

John Dean, the company's founder, adds, "The move into real estate market was a natural one. The relationships we have developed over the past decade and the experience we have in luxury property obviously lends itself to real estate sales of these villas. This is something we have wanted to do for some time until now, yet the market conditions were not ideal. Now with strong foreign currency and a buyer's market, the timing is simply right."

Expansion seems to be in the company's ethos. Soon after launching 10 years ago, Only Provence began coupling vacation rentals with high quality, local experiences such as wine tastings, cooking classes and truffle hunting. The company now has the largest network of regionally renowned regional chefs to cater to their ever growing upscale clientele.

"With higher stock markets, and a strengthening dollar vs. euro, Only Provence villa clients want to own their very own piece of paradise in Provence. The administrative process of buying a property in France can be intimidating to a foreigner. This is where we come in. We are happy to share what we learned ourselves many years ago," states Dean.

More about Only Provence can be seen on their official website at <http://www.onlyprovence.com>. Those interested in looking at the properties in Provence that the company currently has available can see a complete listing at <http://www.onlyprovence.com/provence-real-estate-sales>.

###

For more information about Only Provence, contact the company here: Only Provence John Dean (404) 806-2278 info@only-provence.com 4927 Chimineas Ave. Tarzana, CA 91356

Only Provence

Only Provence luxury villa rental and real estate sales company offers Affordable Luxury Villas and Exclusive Villas for sale and vacation rental. Villas include pool, upscale amenities and housekeeping.

Website: <http://www.onlyprovence.com/>

Email: info@only-provence.com

Phone: (404) 806-2278

