Wash Essentials LLC, a newly established business in Phoenix, AZ, has introduced a set of laundry bags. The laundry bags, which can be seen at <http://www.amazon.com/dp/B0124WZYOI>, have been created to cover all angles necessary for washing, including safety for delicate fabrics. Bekie Thompson founded the business as a result of the difficulties she encountered while trying to sort the socks and underwear of her children. With the new laundry bags, she now allows her children to put their own socks and other clothes into their own wash bags.

"As a caregiver, I became so frustrated with having to sort through my children's socks and underwear," says Bekie Thompson. "I decided to give all my children their own wash bags instead. Meanwhile, on the morning news, I heard that mesh wash bags are a great way to wash Legos, which are usually difficult to clean. And that was my epiphany moment. I found a cute print and started making a set of laundry bags large enough for quilts and small enough for delicates, while strong enough to hold Legos as well."

One set is made up of five bags. One laundry bag is large enough for blankets and another is reinforced to protect shapely bras. The bags will keep clothes safe, including delicate items like leggings and hosiery. And because the bags are made from a silky and zippered micromesh, intimate clothing will not get stretched, snagged or tangled. Furthermore, people won't be losing socks or baby clothes in their washing machines anymore.

The cute print on the bags makes them ideal as gifts, for baby showers or bachelorette parties, for instance. In addition, they can be used as travel organizer bags, keeping all the different items in place.

Customers are encouraged to like the company's Facebook page on <https://www.facebook.com/WashEssentials>. "I would like to create a community of people who have encountered laundry problems," explains Bekie Thompson. "By liking our Facebook page, people can ask questions about our bags, or share novel and interesting ways of using them."

The wash bags are backed by a full three year warranty so that customers are ascertained of the quality.
