New York City- NYC is not just one of the most important business and financial centers in the world, but it is likewise known for having the most complex realty markets worldwide. Drawing in people from around the world, NYC has continued to be a mecca for those who want to put down roots in the United States. Few people know this better than Natalia Sishodia, managing partner of Sishodia PLLC, a boutique New York City property law office specializing in residential as well as commercial real estate purchases and sales, international real estate investment strategies, as well estate planning and elder law.

Ms. Sishodia, a skilled 1031 exchange lawyer, created the boutique law office so as to offer extensive services for those acquiring commercial or residential real estate in the New York metropolitan area. Her clients vary from first-time single-family home purchasers to foreign investors, to highly seasoned commercial investors.

Throughout the years, the 1031 exchange lawyer has dealt with clients worldwide, delivering trusted services for many high-net-worth individuals and also businesses. Ms. Sishodia concentrates on premium real estate purchases and has efficiently negotiated as well as closed thousands of purchases in New York City and also the surrounding areas. On top of that, Ms. Sishodia practices estate as well as elder law, so that she has the ability to adeptly weave real estate holdings right into a client's wealth management practices.

Ms. Sishodia is known for her ability to connect with a substantial range of clients, from New York natives to international clients from around the globe. She understands the frequently personal and delicate nature needed in dealing with high-net-worth clients and, subsequently, her customers continue to value her perseverance, support, and attentiveness to the work that she does.

"I am so happy that our customers value all that we do for them," Ms. Sishodia stated. "Our reviews are a statement of exactly how hard we work for our clients to help make certain that they are well-served as well as represented. There are a lot of elements to large property transactions, particularly as they affect investment and also multijurisdictional estate preparation approaches. While it can be made complex, our clients depend on that we are looking out for their best interests each step of the way."

While Ms. Sishodia commonly serves high-net-worth clients, she is likewise dedicated to repaying the community, offering pro bono services to those who do not have access or the financial means to get appropriate legal solutions. She is particularly proud of her work with Travelogion, a non-profit supporting post-treatment cancer patients via traveling.

Natalia Sishodia, Esq. and the law firm Sishodia PLLC offer experienced legal representation for residential and industrial real estate deals from contract to closing, including sales and purchases, conversions, leasing, lending, and also strategies for those that are worried regarding their estate or tax obligation ramifications. The firm serves clients throughout the New York City area, including Manhattan, Brooklyn, Bronx, Queens, Westchester, Long Island, as well as the Hamptons.
