October 20, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

H&W Quality Products has announced the launch of their new website and online store. In addition to their new online presence, the company has also announced that they will be providing a promotion on their popular hydration running belt. Greg Dunsworth, spokesperson for the company, states, "With the holidays right around the corner and in celebration of our new website, H&W Quality Products wanted to thank our loyal customers with a holiday sale. Just logon to our website, <http://www.hwqualityproducts.com/>, and enter code: $5OFFORDER at checkout. This $5 discount for each order is good now through the end of the year."

The running belt is the third product launch from H&W Quality Products, and targets runners, hikers, and sightseers. The company states this belt is a must for any outdoor activity. The company offers a number of products that are designed for outdoor enthusiasts and manufactured to provide comfort, such as their popular hydration belt, which can be found on the Amazon marketplace at <http://www.amazon.com/dp/B010CHU64A>.

H&W Quality Products was founded to bring health and wellness solutions to consumers. The company's products are and will be primarily focused on alleviating discomfort caused by everyday tasks, such as sitting, standing, or lying down. Greg Dunsworth states that they fully believe that being active is the best way to promote overall wellness, and they plan to provide customers with products that are specifically designed to increase comfort and/or performance in sports or leisure activities.

The company also revealed that since their website is finally up and running, they want to offer a promotional special to new and existing customers. "With the recent launch of our website and online store, we invite everyone to stop by to take a look around and join our rewards club for information, promotions, discounts, and more. And while there, also like us on our official Facebook page to stay in touch and to join the conversation," states Greg Dunsworth. Those interested can join in on Facebook at https://www.facebook.com/HWQualityProducts?ref=aymt_homepage_panel.

Those who are interested in learning more about H&W Quality Products can visit them on their newly launched website or on their Facebook page where Dunsworth states they will keep customers updated with newly released products in the future.
