Long Island, NY-- Being charged with criminal activity in New York can have major repercussions. Few people are more aware of this better than Long Island DWI lawyer Jason Bassett. The effects of a criminal conviction could be severe and can in some cases even alter the trajectory of a person's whole life. Mr. Bassett believes that nobody ought to face the criminal justice system on their own and without the benefit of a proficient and experienced criminal defense lawyer.

As a skilled DWI lawyer, Mr. Bassett understands that the quality of defense that a person gets if they are charged with a criminal offense can make a big difference. Whether the charges get dismissed, downgraded, a plea deal is put forward to the defendant, or if they end up in prison or jail and for how long, can frequently depend on the work of their defense lawyer. Whether a person has actually been charged with burglary, assault, homicide, domestic violence, and even a DWI or DUI, a criminal charge and conviction can haunt them for years to come. This is why it is critical to have the representation of someone with the knowledge, experience, and determination to fight for the accused's rights.

"While criminal penalties and jail time are difficult enough, the way criminal charges and convictions impact the rest of the defendant's life can be equally destructive," stated Mr. Bassett. "A defendant can be penalized and serve their time, and yet for the rest of their life, there is a reminder that they are still thought of as a criminal in society's eyes. A criminal charge can affect a person's future employment, educational opportunities, professional licenses and accreditations, and involvement in specific federal government programs. Each time that person requests a job, the potential company will look at them differently. A well-crafted criminal defense is vital to secure my clients not just from the criminal punishment itself but likewise these other long-term collateral repercussions."

A former prosecutor, Mr. Bassett has observed the other side of the criminal justice system and the way many suspects feel they are without power within the system. He has since turned his sights to criminal defense so as to level the playing field and protect the rights of those who may have been charged with a crime at either the state and federal levels. Both other attorneys and clients continue to provide favorable reviews and testimonials concerning their work together.

Satterfield Tiara from Long Island states: "This law firm is absolutely amazing! The staff and lawyers in this law firm are professional, empathic, and consider their client's best interest over their very own. I extremely recommend this criminal defense law firm."

In the US legal system, a defendant has crucial rights, and it is the criminal defense attorney's job to promote those rights. With over twenty-one years in the criminal justice system, Mr. Bassett has dedicated his practice to protecting the rights of his clients in and out of the courtroom.
