7th Annual Tacolandia Presented by Dallas Observer November 13 2021

November 09, 2021

November 09, 2021 -
Dallas' largest taco festival presented by the Dallas Observer will be held on Saturday, November 13th, 2021 at a new location, Energy Square Plaza between 4pm and 7pm CST.

According to the event?s Facebook page, the Dallas Tacolandia is an outdoor Taco-sampling event and festival that will feature Dallas? best tacos, ranging from urban contemporary to authentic street style. Complete with live music, cash bars with beer and cocktails, as well as awards for best tacos in various categories. Tickets are still available online prior to Saturday and can be purchased here.

Taco Restaurants Include: ¡Ay Caramba!, Chiloso Mexican Bistro, Frida's Tacos, Halal Mother Truckers, Primo's MX Kitchen, Taco Enzo, Taqueria El Arquito, Taqueria La Ventana & many more. Some local vendors may include those like davetheprinter.com, big-lous-car-wash.business.site, jandjllantasinc.com, cobblestoneshoehospitaldfw.com and urban-taco.com

General Admission Tickets for Tacolandia are $35, with entry at 4 p.m. plus unlimited taco samples. There will be a cash bar at the event. There is a VIP ticket level for $75 which includes entry into the event one hour early (3 p.m.), unlimited taco samples, access to the VIP lounge and some exclusive bites from Henry's Majestic, Harlowe MXM and Bread Winners Cafe. VIP tickets also get three drink tickets to use at the VIP bar and there are VIP bathrooms.

To see a list of all the vendors check out this page on the event?s website along with directions and other pertinent details: https://www.tacolandiadallas.com/tacos. A portion of proceeds goes to benefit the North Texas Food Bank.
###
For more information about Bozo News Network, contact the company here:Bozo News NetworkSteve Smithsteve@bozonewsnetwork.xyzAustin, TX

Bozo News Network

Local news optimization services provider.

Website: https://bozonewsnetwork.xyz

Email: steve@bozonewsnetwork.xyz