October 29, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Beverly Kune, founder of Inside Out Healing in Santa Fe, New Mexico, has announced her 30 year anniversary in business. Kune has been providing counseling services in her private practice, and has been an expert in her field, for the past three decades.

Kune states, "I have been in private practice for 30 years, specializing in cutting edge approaches to empowering others to live their lives free of the old stories that kept them stuck in dysfunctional patterns."

Kune specializes in whole self-healing of trauma on a number of levels including emotional, physiological, spiritual, and mental health. She has, in her 30 years of practice, worked with early development trauma, as well as relational issues, and medical trauma from automobile and other accidents.

She states that in the past 30 years she has geared her practice toward helping individuals to overcome the trauma that may be holding them back from enjoying their lives to the fullest.

"People just need guidance sometimes to get them where they want to be in life," she says. "And this is what I do."

Kune's biography, which outlines her years of practice, can be seen on LinkedIn at <https://www.linkedin.com/pub/beverly-kune/14/524/8b1>. Among her credentials, she has a dual license as both a clinical counselor and a body worker, and she began her private practice in 1987. She designed the School of Mind-Body Integrated Studies at the University of Natural Medicine, based in San Dimas, California, and also authored the Master's degree program in the field at the same university, where she currently serves as Dean of Mind-Body Integrative Studies.

Her practice, which can be seen at <http://insideouthealing.com>, services children, adults, and couples or individuals, and has since it first opened its doors nearly 30 years ago. In her practice, Kune states that she combines a number of therapies, all designed to provide the best results for her clients. Therapies include hypnotherapy, EFT, cognitive dialogue, Jin Shin Do, and other manual techniques.
