Monmouth County -- For more than two decades, the New Jersey real estate attorney at the Matus Law Group have represented families in matters of estate planning, special needs planning, elder planning, asset protection, and real estate law. Over the years, Christine Matus and her team have taken a special interest in the families with whom they work and the community, providing a distinct and compassionate approach to estate and legacy planning.

"We have a group of very dedicated people at The Matus Law Group. It is not simply an occupation but also a passion for all of us. Our life's work is to help people secure their future and the future of their loved ones, and we are enthusiastic about what we do here every day," stated the real estate attorney. "We believe we exceed what many individuals anticipate from their attorneys and, because of that, we have produced something really special at The Matus Law Group."

Ms. Matus, the founding attorney, has an individual connection with the special needs community. She is the parent of a child with Down syndrome and has dedicated a big portion of her practice to special needs families and their specific estate planning and financial needs. She helps educate the public about new resources and provides education and information in the special needs arena that families might have the ability to use. As a skilled estate preparation attorney, she provides critical information about financial and estate planning for special needs households so they can feel comfortable about their loved one's futures.

The Matus Law Firm partners with other local specialists to provide free information and online webinars to educate the general public about financial resources, estate preparation, and what to expect for the future. The company regularly wins honors and awards with an Avvo Rating of 10.0 and has actually appeared on the Law Firm 500 for the previous 3 years. Their customers continue to offer praise, positive reviews, and testimonials regarding their services.

Elisa Kethley from Monmouth County states, "The Matus Law Group was instrumental in closing my real estate transaction and assisted with all the steps involving the seller and the title company."

"At the Matus Law Group, we are committed to making a difference in our community and to the families and individuals that we work with. We take a team effort approach and our clients are dealt with like family members. Each member of the firm has their own wealth of understanding that they draw from and have the compassion and understanding that it takes to really provide mindful and customized care to our clients," stated Ms. Matus. "We appreciate our customers as much as they appreciate us, and I believe it shows in the representation we offer and the continuing relationships we develop with the families and the community."

When it pertains to matters of estate preparation and preparation for the future, individuals and families look to those who can provide empathy in addition to legal skill and understanding. Christine Matus, and the talented team of estate planning attorneys at the Matus Law Group, pride themselves on their ability to make positive changes in the lives of their customers.
