Long Island, NY-- Being charged with a criminal offense in New York can have serious consequences. Few people know this better than Suffolk County DWI lawyer Jason Bassett. The effects of a criminal conviction can be dire and can sometimes even change the trajectory of an individual's whole life. Mr. Bassett believes that no one needs to deal with the criminal justice system alone and without the benefit of a knowledgeable and experienced criminal defense attorney.

As an experienced DWI lawyer, Mr. Bassett knows that the quality of criminal defense that a person gets if they are charged with a criminal offense can make a big difference. Whether the charges get dismissed, reduced, a plea deal is offered to the defendant, or if they end up in jail or prison and for how long, can often depend on the work of their defense lawyer. Whether an individual has been charged with theft, assault, homicide, domestic violence, or even a DWI or DUI, a criminal charge and conviction can haunt them for years to come. This is why it is crucial to have the representation of someone with the knowledge, experience, and perseverance to fight for the defendant's rights.

"Although criminal penalties and jail time are challenging enough, the way criminal charges and convictions impact the rest of the suspect's life can be equally devastating," stated Mr. Bassett. "An accused can be punished and serve their time, and yet for the rest of their life, there is a reminder that they are still thought of a criminal in the eyes of society. A criminal charge can affect a person's future employment, educational opportunities, professional licenses and accreditations, and involvement in specific government programs. Each time that person obtains a task, the prospective employer will take a look at them in a different way. A well-crafted criminal defense is vital to secure my clients not just from the criminal penalty itself but also these other long-term collateral effects."

A former prosecutor, Mr. Bassett has witnessed the other side of the criminal justice and the way many defendants feel they lack power within the system. He has turned his sights to criminal defense so as to help level the playing field and safeguard the rights of those who may have been charged with a crime at either the federal or state level. Both other attorneys and clients continue to provide favorable testimonials and reviews concerning their work together.

Dooley Tobias from Suffolk County states: "We are really pleased with the service of this law firm's service. Jason was really well informed, experienced and a wonderful person. He gave his clients the attention they deserve. Updates were constant that we practically didn't need to ask them anything regarding our case. Highly recommend."

In the US legal system, an accused has essential rights under the law, and it is the criminal defense lawyer's task to uphold those rights. With over 21 years in the criminal justice system, Mr. Bassett has devoted his practice to protecting the rights of his clients in and out of the courtroom.
