

Progressive Quad Cities IA Mortgage Lender Announces the Availability of Reasonable Mortgage Rates and the Launch of a New Website

November 29, 2021

DAVENPORT, IA - November 29, 2021 -

John Cornish - Mortgage Lender, is a Davenport, Iowa-based services provider that is widely respected for the way it helps people obtain quick and convenient home purchasing assistance. That?s something that not all Quad Cities home purchasing assistance companies can claim. Part of the reason that this reputable company can do that is that they like to take a progressive approach to everything that they do. Evidence of this is that on September 1, 2021, the company launched an entirely new website. A move that was designed to give new and prospective clients of the company a more customer-friendly experience when they are looking to purchase a new home or take advantage of the equity in their existing home. The company owner, John Cornish, says, ?One of the reasons that our company has been so successful over the years is that I have assembled a great team around me. That?s why when a few team members alerted me to some shortcomings with our website, I agreed with what they were saying and decided to do something about it. That has resulted in what we feel is a new and improved website that?s very user-friendly and gets people the important information they need about us as to how we can help them with their home purchasing needs and helping people take advantage of the equity in their homes.?

Cornish also talked about how being progressive means always staying up to speed on the latest homebuying assistance options and trends in the industry. This is something that has led their service to be very successful at helping first time home buyers get approval to purchase a home; one of the groups that are known for having a more difficult time getting into a new home. First-time homebuyers have problems getting approved because they often do not have a long credit history or have large sums of money available to use as a down payment. The company owner stated that they have developed methods to work around this and that has resulted in them having a very high success rate helping first-time homebuyers get the home approvals that they so badly desire. This includes helping them get approved for more buyer-friendly FHA assistance. Another specialty of this home purchasing assistance company in Quad Cities IA is helping veterans who want the best rates for their circumstances. Cornish mentioned that he and his team know how to navigate through the tricky waters that often accompany working with the VA when trying to get a veteran approved for the different types of VA home purchasing assistance that?s available. He says their company has also established a solid reputation for staying on top of the latest ways for their clients to obtain advantageous refinance options.

Those that John Cornish has helped with home purchasing assistance often point out that it was a gratifying experience for them. Megan Stoelk stated, ?We had such a great experience working with John Cornish and his team. They were very thorough in answering our questions and preparing us for the home buying process. As first-time homebuyers, we really needed guidance and advice on what would be best for us and what home price made the most sense for our income and future financial health. We had a unique experience of purchasing a home from out of state and they helped make that process as stress-free as possible. The communication was outstanding and we would definitely use this team again for any future home purchasing needs. Jordan Pulliam proclaimed, ?5-star rating from us! We are so happy with our decision to go with John and his team! They were very honest, informative, and helped us every step of the way! John was able to get us set up with lower payments compared to the other companies that we talked to. He and his team were always available to answer our questions! We would definitely recommend John and his team!" These reviews were taken from John Cornish - Mortgage Lender?s Google Maps Business Listing where they average an impressive 5 out of a possible 5-stars on over 200 reviews.

Those that would like more information about how this company can assist them in getting a home are welcome to give them a call or they can refer to their newly launched website to get that information.
