November 26, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

KY based Bravafi - Louisville is taking steps to help their community weather the financial difficulties brought on by the Covid-19 pandemic. In particular, the company recognizes that many are dealing with an unprecedented number of emergencies that may appear impossible to overcome. Fortunately, their team has redoubled their efforts to help local residents get the financial aid they need to keep moving forward. "We realize that everyone risks facing a financial emergency at some point and we want them to know we are here to help," states a representative from Bravafi - Louisville. "We don't want Louisville residents having to deal with added stress in the form of financial hardships, and we aim to offer the relief they need."

Bravafi gives their customers the ability to seek financial assistance using their vehicle's title as collateral. One of the biggest advantages offered by this service is that anyone with bad credit can still be considered eligible to receive assistance as long as they fulfil the company's criteria - which is much less tedious than those set by more conventional financial institutions (such as banks).

The company held the belief that it is important to make this service available to people with bad credit well before the pandemic began, and recent events have only proven this for their team and customers. This is due to the fact that those who are unfortunate enough to have bad credit are usually the ones who need the most help. As such, excluding people on the basis of bad credit might only serve to restrict them from receiving the financial boost they need to climb out of trouble.

Notably, this is far from the sole advantage Bravafi's community has. Given the nature of emergencies, the company understands that any help offered has to be delivered in a prompt manner. Those who apply for help, therefore, will know if they are approved in less than 15 minutes. Crucially, they can have the cash in hand in less than 24 hours. The company explains that they have streamlined their approval process to this extent to avoid keeping customers from seeking other options as they wait for an approval that may not arrive. Bravafi values their customers' time, and they do everything in their power to ensure it is respected.

Some may also be concerned that using their vehicle title in this manner will mean that they will not be able to use it until repayments have been made in full. To set these concerns to rest, Bravafi assures their community that they will have full use of their car for the entire duration of the agreement. The company will only hold on to the title itself, and it will be returned as soon as the last payment is completed.

Customers will be pleased to learn that the company offers low and competitive rates ? which are further reduced each month once the first payment is made. These rates and their associated terms are designed to be quite flexible as well. Those who are eligible for assistance will be able to define how long they will be making payments for, thereby allowing them to find a plan that suits their needs and is within their means.

To apply, the title of the vehicle in question must be under the customer's name and be lien-free. Certain documents need to be provided as well, including a form of identification (such as a driver's license), proof of insurance and registration on their vehicle, proof of ownership and proof of income. Applicants must also be 18 or older to be considered.
