An experienced car accident lawyer in Atlanta, GA, is the best person to help guide an accident victim towards the best settlement. The top attorneys always explain that accident victims should not accept the first offer, which is often a meager amount.

?When the first offer is made, you need to decide if it is reasonable but too low or if it?s so low that they?re trying to take advantage of you. If the offer seems reasonable, you can make a counteroffer closer to your demand amount,? suggests Ronnie Mabra, the leading attorney at the Mabra Law Firm.

According to Ronnie Mabra, ?The settlement process begins the moment the accident occurs. From that point to where the negotiations begin, you need to have every cost incurred documented so you can provide them to your attorney as evidence of your injuries.? The leading Atlanta personal injury lawyer asserts the need to save bills from the ambulance ride, medical expenses, including long and short-term medical costs, prescription costs, property damage, and paycheck stubs.?

Ronnie suggests that victims should follow their doctor?s advice to get the most out of personal injury claims in Atlanta and mitigate the damages. The top accident injury attorney warns, ?If you don?t follow through with the medical treatment assigned by your doctor, the insurance company may claim that you made your injuries worse.?

The best car accident lawyers in Atlanta suggest keeping the accident details off social media as insurance investigators often check social media accounts of relatives and friends to find evidence to contradict the victim?s claim. The best personal injury law firm in Atlanta has been fighting accident injury claims of victims for decades and helps them receive the best compensation for damages.

The accident attorneys at The Mabra Firm advise sending a demand letter to the insurance company with details about the car accident, injuries, medical treatment, ongoing health issues, damages to the vehicle, and losses incurred as a result of the car accident. With these details, the insurance company will likely respond with an offer lower than the amount claimed in the demand letter.

Ronnie suggests that victims should ?ask for between 25 and 100 percent more than what you would be willing to settle for.? Top personal injury lawyers stress the importance of emphasizing emotional points that support the claim, adding that emotional damage can be a potent tool to get an insurance company to receive maximum compensation.
