

PSS International Removals Offers Container Shipping to USA from the UK for US Expats Returning Home

December 24, 2021

London, England - December 24, 2021 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

PSS International Removals, a Croydon, UK-based international removals company, is pleased to announce that they are offering container shipping to the USA from the UK for US expats who are moving back home. They have observed that the coronavirus pandemic has resulted in a rise in the demand for the shipping of household goods from the UK to the USA. The shipping containers can be a full load 20 foot or 40 foot for people who are moving the entire contents of their household. Less than container load (LCL), which is also called shared container or groupage, can be used for the personal effects of several people that are grouped together to fill an entire container. More about this can be gleaned from <https://www.pssremovals.com/container-shipping-to-usa>.

Liam Witham, CEO of PSS International Removals, says, "Demand has been strong from United States expats wanting to head home during the coronavirus pandemic but we have seen a big increase in enquiries since the lifting of travel restrictions. Many people are making plans for moving in the New Year."

Container shipping is very cost-effective and more economical than air freight although it does take longer. Meanwhile, with the lifting of international travel bans in November 2021, there has been a drastic increase in demand. And with 2022 just around the corner, this is contributing further to the drastic rise in the number of expats wishing to return home.

PSS International Removals provides a door to door full container shipping service to the USA from the UK, as well as a part container shipping service to all major cities of the US on a regular basis. They have a variety of containers available for shipping goods to the United States. Depending on the specific needs of clients, their expert shipping consultants will advise clients on the most appropriate container size which would be suitable for the client.

When shipping a container to the United States, they can combine the clients' household items along with their car inside their own container. However, due to strict import requirements for vehicles, it can be difficult to ship cars so customers should seek expert advice first.

PSS International Removals will arrange for the shipping line to position a container at the client's residence on the scheduled removal day and carefully load, secure and over crate or wall off the car. The remaining space inside the shipping container will then be utilised by loading and stowing the client's professionally packed household effects. The container will then be sealed at the client's door with a customs seal, and the client's sole use container would then be returned to a UK port ready for loading onto a vessel for shipment.

Meanwhile, those who have experienced the services the company provides have given highly positive reviews. For instance, Mr. Hobbs gave PSS International Removals a five-star rating on Trustpilot and said, "I used the moving service of PSS International Removals for my work transfer to California. The team I must confess were very flexible as they understand the short notice and also the change to my flight schedule. They worked around my schedule and packed up my entire house in two days. I was really dreading this move with all my belongings but the team really helped me. I am very thankful to the team for a timely and quality delivery."

Established in 1982 as a personal shipping services company, PSS International Removals is focused on shipping people's belongings from the UK to other countries. They offer their services to both expats and migrants who are moving from the UK to various destinations abroad. And they have designed this overseas shipping service to ensure that their clients' move to another country would be easy, trouble-free, and convenient. Whether the client desires to move a few boxes or a whole household, including a car, they will always provide complete organisation for the shipment, including providing help with the required documents and customs clearance. Currently, PSS has grown into one of the largest and most reputable international removal and shipping companies in the UK.
