Via Digital Solutions, an SEO and website design company based in Sunderland, UK, that also uses video marketing to allow businesses to engage with their target audience, has recently released a blog post that offers the six best tips on how to get ranked on the first page of Google. The article was written by Gavin Cole, office manager and SEO specialist at Via Digital Solutions, to allow businesses and individuals sort out the vast and confusing information that are out there on what should be done to get listed on Google and and how to rank higher and rise above their competitors.

A spokesperson for Via Digital Solutions says, ?Our goal is to help you navigate the video space and get the most out of your investment. We specialise in SEO and website design to take your project to new heights. We take our knowledge of search engine optimisation very seriously, so we are always prepared for any projects that you can throw at us. Let us show you firsthand where we can take your Google My Business project. We want to give you access to all the experience that our fantastic team has to offer.?

The first tip offered by Gavin Cole is for the business owners to truly understand the needs of their targeted audience. For instance, if the business is a coffee shop, their audience is composed of people who love coffee and frequently go to coffee shops. The business may then target people living in their location or in neighboring areas. As long as the business owner is willing to pay for ads, it is possible to reach out to potential customers in a particular location. But this will require the website to be constructed purposely for people living in a certain location.

The second tip is to make sure that the website has great content. Google has indicated that great content is vital to rank well on the first page of the search results. Such content must be unique and offers value to the target audience, providing them with the information that they need or want. If the site visitors don?t regard the content as important for them, they will not likely take time to read it and the site will not rank well on the Google search results. To avoid having content that is irrelevant to the target audience, it is essential to listen to them and create articles that will provide with the information they are looking for.

The third tip is to build high quality backlinks. These are links from authoritative websites and the more links that a website has, the higher it will rank on the search results. There are three methods of getting high quality backlinks: guest posting; social media marketing; and SEO.

The fourth tip is to link to high quality websites. Sites that have a lot of authority can derive a lot of high quality traffic to the business site. The more links that these authoritative sites have that link back to the business site, the higher will be rank of the business site. One way to obtain more links back to the business site is to post content on authoritative sites like BuzzFeed and Up-worthy.

The fifth tip is to share content on social media sites. This allows the content to be seen by a lot of people from the business? target audience. The business can reach out to people on social media sites and request that they share the content to their followers.

And finally, the sixth tip is to outsource the SEO tasks to professionals who have the skills, experience, and expertise needed to expanding the business? digital presence.
