Unclean carpets can impede a home's airflow and contribute to poor indoor air quality. Not only does carpet cleaning benefit the health of those living in the home, it also protects the carpet material as well. Soil is the main cause of early carpet wear and tear. The wear and tear on the carpet is caused by particles that work their way down to the backing. These tiny bits cut through fibers over time, causing the carpet to lose its luster. It also leaves areas of the carpet prone to stains and bare spots.

According to professionals, carpets should be cleaned at least every 12 months to remove dirt, grime, and allergens that can affect the health of those living inside. This cleaning schedule varies however if there are other factors. More frequent cleanings may be required in the case of pets and young children living in the home.

Company owner, Rich Moore, had this say, "When choosing a professional carpet cleaning company, a person would want to work with a company that utilizes state of the art equipment along with organic cleaning solutions. The combination of these two will not only ensure the deepest possible cleaning, but will also allow the carpet to dry within a few hours, rather than a few days."

PowerPro Carpet Cleaning has been offering carpet cleaning services for nearly 40 years. Among their services offered are residential carpet cleaning, commercial carpet cleaning, upholstery and area rug cleaning, grout and tile cleaning, air duct cleaning solutions, and water damage restoration to residents and businesses in Manalapan Township, New Jersey.

According to the company, their Hybrid Carpet Cleaning method is the most requested service from customers. This service involves a steam cleaning process followed by dry cleaning process. By utilizing the company's Hybrid Carpet Cleaning method, customers receive the combined benefits of both processes and the best possible results.

According to the company's website, they guarantee the most thorough carpet cleaning or the service is free of charge. The company advises those interested in this guarantee to call for details.
