

Create U's New Online Life Coaching Website Makes It Debut

October 29, 2015

October 29, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Create U, an online life coaching business in New York, NY, is pleased to announce the grand opening of their recently relaunched website. The company founder is encouraging those who are interested in life coaching to visit the website. A variety of information is provided to teach people how to get unstuck and take back control of their lives, and Create U is looking forward to helping people increase their personal happiness.

"I have tried to create a place where people can access tools and strategies to create a better life," says Bonnie Bruderer, who founded the company. "What sets my site apart is that people no longer have to pay thousands of dollars for these tools, nor do they have to leave their home or take time off from work in order to attend seminars. I want to spread happiness as far and wide as possible."

Bonnie Bruderer is an award winning life coach who has worked in the self help industry for over 20 years. She has also worked with some of the best known gurus in the industry, including Harvey Mackay, Tony Robbins, and others. She also produces her own show Ask Bon Bon. On the show she interviews experts in their fields sharing insight into what it takes to be successful. The show currently reaches 5 Million homes a week.

One of the things she addresses on the site is how to get a life coach. Life coaching that is done online is a reasonably new concept that Bruderer is helping to pioneer through her new site. To achieve this, she provides users of her website immediate access to eBooks, audio programs and video interviews. These have been collected from the works of more than 25 top industry leaders. Through the use of these tools, users are enabled to build the life they want.

"I want to show people that they can get unstuck and can be empowered to take control over their own lives," adds Bonnie Bruderer. "People can learn to live a life that they enjoy, and I want to help them achieve that."

Create U is an online community of life coaches. Bonnie Bruderer currently offers the University Program, which includes various tools and strategies to improve life overall. Those who remain a member will also be given access to Bruderer's private live stream, where they will be able to get a behind the scenes look into Bruderer's show Ask Bon Bon.
